As of editing this,4/29/2025 I uncovered tons of new information regarding Parlo,as such I will not be talking about Parlos association with Nattie Forsyth or the UTTP, It will be handled in another document. If I kept working on those sections this document would never be finished.

Also, I recommend you start with the section detailing Parlo's pattern of sending his self harm imagery to others and onward, as the introduction just gives important context and characterises Parlo, so if you already know about these things, skip to there.

I know this document is long, and I apologize for that, there's unfortunately too much information for me to make it any shorter. For your convenience I tried my best to make things as easy as possible to digest and understand. Click the chapters on the side of your screen to go to different parts of the document. And please, read to the end

ALSO ARCHIVES AND SUCH WILL BE ON MY TWITTER, @77IsUnavailable

Parlo is a british roblox drama youtuber, who has been the center of many controversies within the past few years, from running femboy servers filled with underage minors in them, to working with UTTP members, he has definitely been an interesting figure within the roblox community

This document is going to try and shed some light on what's been going on with Parlo, give some important history, and hopefully open your eyes a bit on the type of person he is.
I am not associated with nor do I condone the actions of any uttp/foodist members, what they do is absolutely unacceptable and keep in mind that even though many of them are against Parlo, it doesn't make them "good" in any way, neither does it make Parlo

Please do not harass anyone mentioned within this document, this is for informational purposes only.

Let's start with some important backstory, Parlo started off as a troll channel around 2019, before getting into commentary and "exposing" trolls such as lisagaming.  There are already existing screenshots of Parlo being racist within the comment sections of his video

Nothing much is important within this era, besides Parlo doing a series of videos on a specific troll known as "Xdgamer420" this will be important later.
https://web.archive.org/web/20201112034334/https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCh-W5cTLc5sXxleeLdDmEJQ
Fast forward a bit to 2022, Parlo would be doxxed by someone known as "Xdgamer".  Xdgamer was a prolific troll, harasser, and doxxer, who would often impersonate his victims on social media, send false police reports, and allegedly possessed cp.
Based on what Parlo said, the harassment was so bad it almost drove him to commit suicide.

I DO NOT CONDONE ANY OF HIS ACTIONS.

This would be the beginning of Parlos downward spiral. I must reiterate that even though it's unfortunate that this happened to Parlo, it DOES NOT erase nor does it distort any of his wrongful actions, I do NOT condone any said wrongful action discussed in this video.

I do not know what the motive behind Xdgamers harassment may be, though I will speculate on it later on.

2022 Allegations

Before he was doxed, there would be several documents made about Parlo in 2022, containing screenshots and allegations that he'd been ERPing with minors and dating underage people. I'm fairly certain that Parlo has claimed to debunk these allegations though, and since I was not able to find the original document (Lots of "evidence" has been lost to time), the closest thing I could find is this and a few screenshots.

I am not here to discuss the validity of these old allegations, though I will link an exported archive of the Parlos Kingdom server and let you decide what to think about all of this.

Parlo would also send self harm images to different people within his server.
Before I go any further, I have to stop again to say that if a document is true, it is true. It doesn't matter who made the document, if the information within it is true and valid then that's the end of the story.

I bring this up because Parlo has a history of attacking the people making the claims instead of debunking the claims instead (Ad hominem fallacy). This will be mentioned later.

At the time Parlos dox was being spread around twitter, he would contact two people he believed to be spreading his dox, those two being known as Soulless and SC99.
There is plenty of evidence to suggest that Soulless was a prominent doxxer.
However, what I found about SC99 suggested he was much less active than Soulless, doxxing Parlo and helping Soulless dox others.
He would go on to use these people to dox several figures, one of which being Sydiced, someone who Parlo believed at the time to be Xdgamer.

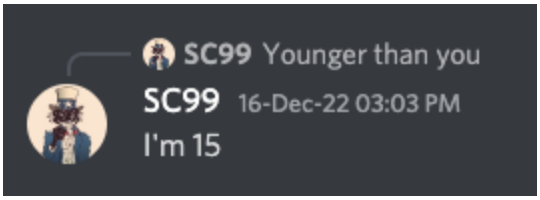
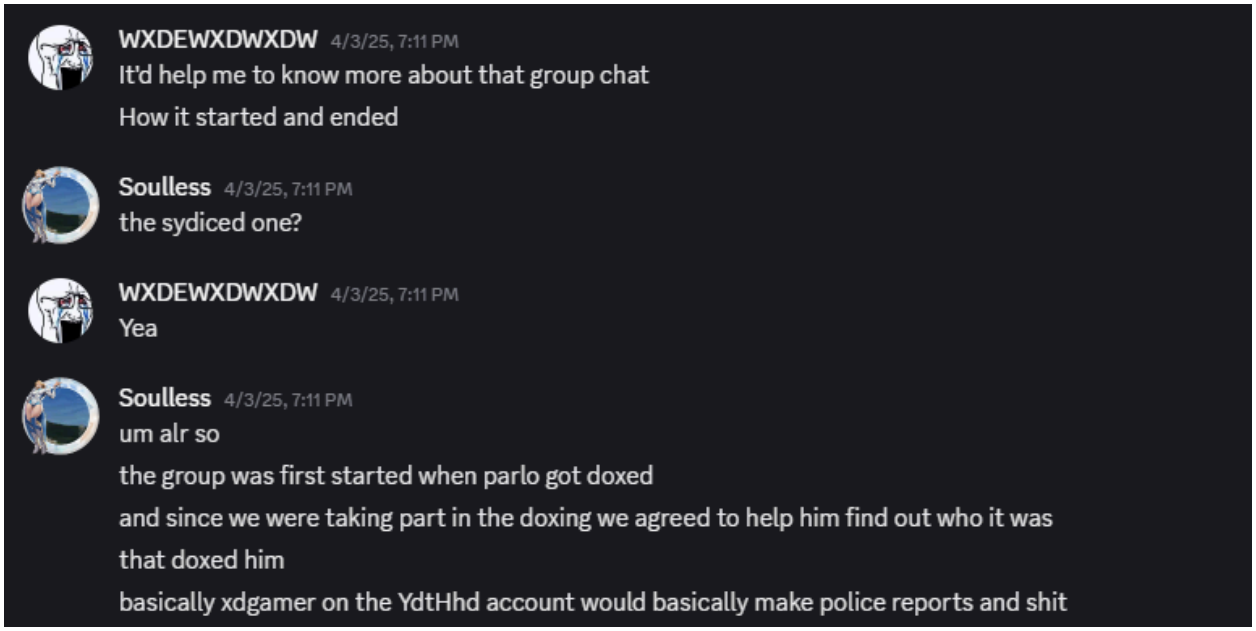
LMAO

I also have to say how irresponsible and reckless it is to use CHILDREN to do your dirty work, especially when said dirty work is trying to go after a prolific child predator, harasser and doxxer (XDGAMER).



There would be a document made by Xdgamer about the "doxer group chat" created by Parlo, and while I won't be linking the original document because it contains exaggerations and false information, everything in this document contains things that I myself managed to verify, either by Soulless, SC99, or others who were within that group chat but wish to stay anonymous. I will be referring to that group chat as the "doxer group chat" as it will again be important later.

I got a hold of an interview with one of the "doxers" mentioned within it (Soulless), and I will be listing some notable things here.



WXDEWXDWXDW 4/3/25, 7:11 PM
It'd help me to know more about that group chat
How it started and ended
Soulless 4/3/25, 7:11 PM
the sydiced one?
WXDEWXDWXDW 4/3/25, 7:11 PM
Yea
Soulless 4/3/25, 7:11 PM
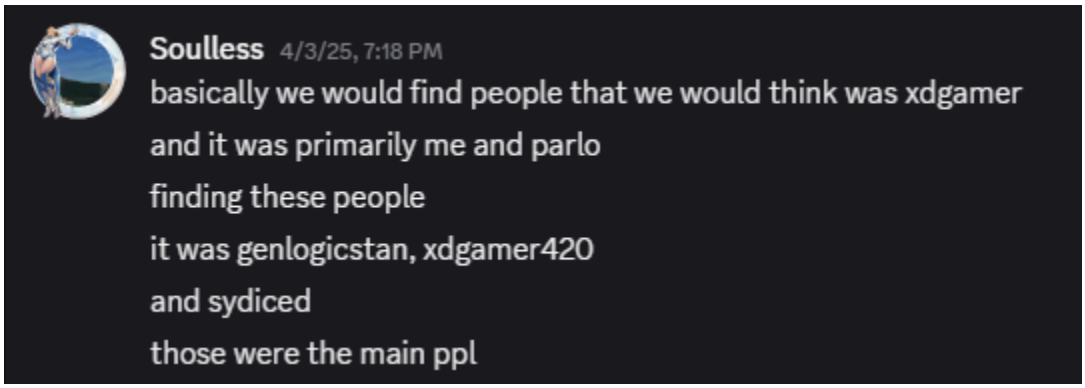
um alr so the group was first started when parlo got doxed and since we were taking part in the doxing we agreed to help him find out who it was that doxed him basically xdgamer on the YdtHhd account would basically make police reports and shit



Soulless 4/3/25, 7:18 PM
basically we would find people that we would think was xdgamer and it was primarily me and parlo finding these people it was genlogicstan, xdgamer420 and sydiced
those were the main ppl

WXDEWXDWXDW 4/3/25, 7:23 PM
Interesting
Anyway
How was Parlo in that group chat?

Soulless 4/3/25, 7:27 PM
ok im back parlo basically led most of it he would support most of the doxing involved he himself only doxed sydiced i believe but most of the time he would say once we know for certain who it is hes pasting their face everywhere and spreading their dox he would also try to defend himself against the xdgamer claims like the points that were to expose him

> @WXDEWXDWXDW From the screenshots I have he was being extremely racist

Soulless 4/3/25, 7:32 PM
i dont think racist he was being islamphobic and jus doxing ive had evidence on him for a while i just dont gaf to release it but i made a document on him awhile back about furry porn and cp claims

WXDEWXDWXDW 4/3/25, 7:33 PM

Soulless 4/3/25, 7:33 PM
yea i rmbr he said that he would say wild shit bout zoophilia also bro you have that ss lmao thats from the gc

Soulless 4/12/25, 8:45 PM
Also about the twittwr acc
That was the first account to dox parlo
Back in march of '23 i think
Ir 22
Or 22
Forgot when
He'd basically just post parlos info in march
Then he'd dox other ppl
Like pyndrex
And other ppl
WXDEWXDWXDW 4/12/25, 8:46 PM
Okay
Soulless 4/12/25, 8:46 PM
He was the person tryna make an expose on parlo
But he'd also do fucked up things

(Soulless speaking about Xdgamers harassment)

WXDEWXDWXDW 4/12/25, 9:06 PM
What about Parlo sending people images of his self harm?
Is that true?
Soulless 4/12/25, 9:08 PM
Yea he sent it to 13 yr old
He apologized tho

This aligns with this portion of Xdgamers document.

Parlo discussing his self harming with a 13 year old

The same 13 year old claiming Parlo was in a voice call "cutting himself and screaming"

WXDEWXDWXDW 4/15/25, 6:12 PM
Oh yeah also
What about Parlos affiliation with Nattie?
That groupchat had people trying to dissuade parlo from continuing to associate with Nat because they were a pedo, yes?
Soulless 4/15/25, 7:17 PM
yea
he'd still associate with her after all the other claims came out also like when he was mod in cammyfemboy discord

Here are the four main points I was able to get from all of this.

- Parlo would be needlessly edgy, and racist within that group chat, overall just not a good person.
- Parlo had sent self harm images to people as young as 13.
- Parlo would support the doxing of his adversaries and use others to do his dirty work.
- Around this time, plenty of people warned Parlo to stop associating with Nattie Forsyth, but he didn't listen

I'm not going to say any more on this topic.  I'll let you decide what to think about this.

Homotopia

Now, this is where you'll notice the tone of this document start to shift.
Continuing on with the timeline, a few months later in 2023, Xdgamer would release a document about Homotopia, an NSFW discord server filled with underages, ran by Parlo under the alias of "CammyFemboy" https://archive.li/https://twitter.com/CammyTheFemboy* (Archive of the CammyFemboy account.)
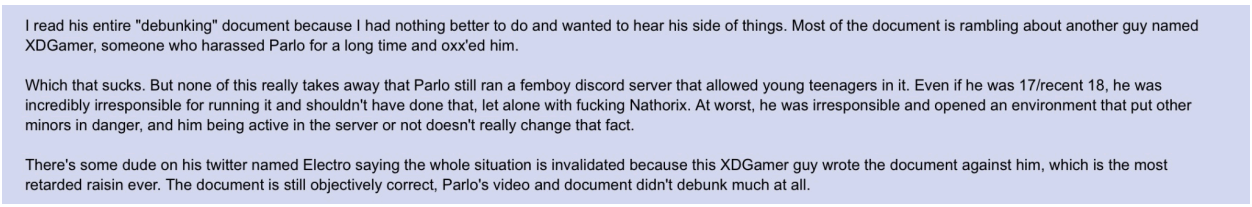
https://files.catbox.moe/uplvbb.pdf (WARNING: VISITING THIS WILL TRIGGER YOUR ANTIVIRUS, CLICK AT YOUR OWN RISK)

One thing I have to say right off the bat, is that despite the document being named "Debunking The Homotopia Situation", more than half of the document isn't about Homotopia, it's just about XDGAMER and whatever he did.  (Not to excuse what he did, he is a disgusting "person".)



I read his entire "debunking" document because I had nothing better to do and wanted to hear his side of things. Most of the document is rambling about another guy named XDGamer, someone who harassed Parlo for a long time and oxx'ed him.

Which that sucks. But none of this really takes away that Parlo still ran a femboy discord server that allowed young teenagers in it. Even if he was 17/recent 18, he was incredibly irresponsible for running it and shouldn't have done that, let alone with fucking Nathorix. At worst, he was irresponsible and opened an environment that put other minors in danger, and him being active in the server or not doesn't really change that fact.

There's some dude on his twitter named Electro saying the whole situation is invalidated because this XDGamer guy wrote the document against him, which is the most retarded raisin ever. The document is still objectively correct, Parlo's video and document didn't debunk much at all.

(What a random Soyjak Party user had to say about it)

A common theme with Parlo is that he'll misdirect and change topics to draw away attention from whatever he's being fired upon for.  He always does this on Twitter, where he'll search through somebody's profile and dig up dirt on them purley to reply to whatever criticism they had (most tweets he made like this have been deleted).

He'll also label anyone who tries to call him out for the things he's done as pedophilic UTTP foodists.
This is VERY important to keep in mind.
Parlo is a manipulator.  More evidence will be shown later on.

(EPI - Early Porn Introduction)

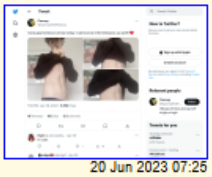
Speaking of Parlos alt (CammyFemboy), he would essentially post thirst traps and very suggestive content on it, as seen in the archives linked above.

Despite what Parlo might say about CammyFemboy, no they were not just "progress pics" the captions were clearly sexual, and the images clearly suggestive.
A picture with Parlos shirt pulled up with the caption "more gay femboy tummy today" is NOT just a "progress pic".



Cammy on Twitter: "more gay femboy tummy today :3 almost at 2.5k followers as well!! ❤️ https://t.co/gQEuhKvB9y" / Twitter

Parlo would attempt to debunk the homotopia allegations, and I'm going to give my thoughts on it next.

To start, the document that "debunks" this is 166 pages long, which means that barely anybody is going to read it in its entirety.  It's more reasonable to assume that people will just look at the huge page count and assume it's true.

However, since I have no life, I decided to read the entire thing.
First of all, sifting through all the XDGAMER bloat, Parlos' main defense is that he was not aware of the degeneracy that was going on within the server.  He claims to not be active in the server, yet he backtracks on this by saying he only used the general or vent channels to rant about his personal life.

Even if what he said about not being active was true, it's still not a good look nor defense, especially considering he had Nattie Forsyth (Pedophile groomer) as a mod, even WHILE knowing about what she's done.

Oh yeah also
What about Parlos affiliation with Nattie?
That groupchat had people trying to dissuade parlo from continuing to associate with Nat because they were a pedo, yes?
Soulless 4/15/25, 7:17 PM
yea
he'd still associate with her after all the other claims came out also like when he was mod in cammyfemboy discord

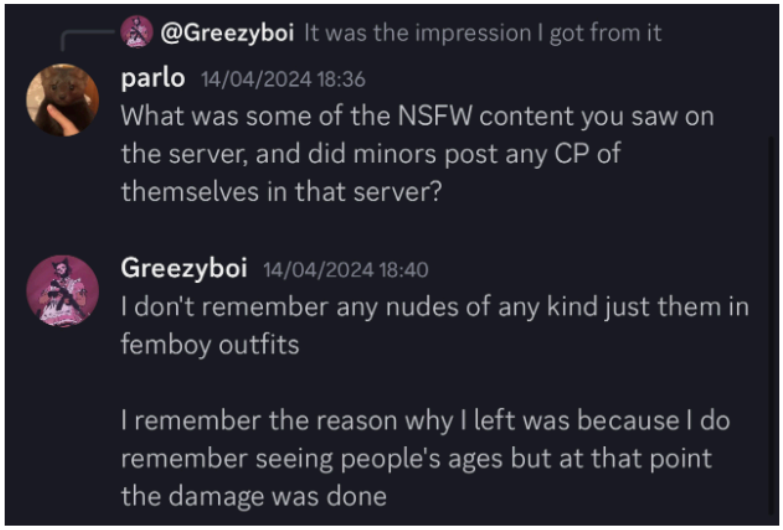
Ignoring the claim that he apparently just didn't pay attention to his own server, the server itself was to put it in Parlos words "Degenerate"

To make it abundantly clear, Parlo was NOT active in the server, he only used general chat and did not know of the degeneracy that transpired until he saw XDGAMERS document on it. Homotopia was created on May 14th 2023 and closed down on the 31st May 2023 the day Parlo found out about how degenerate the server was.



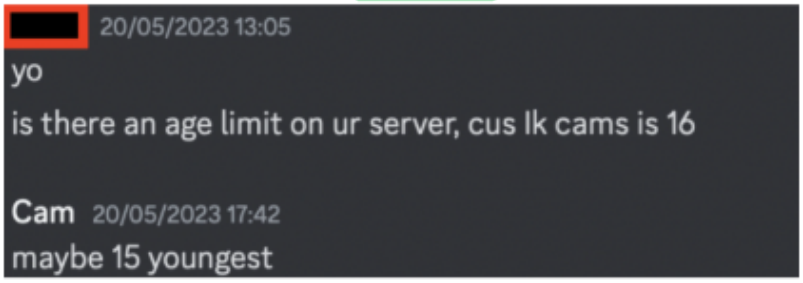
@Greezyboi It was the impression I got from it
parlo 14/04/2024 18:36
What was some of the NSFW content you saw on the server, and did minors post any CP of themselves in that server?
Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:40
I don't remember any nudes of any kind just them in femboy outfits
I remember the reason why I left was because I do remember seeing people's ages but at that point the damage was done

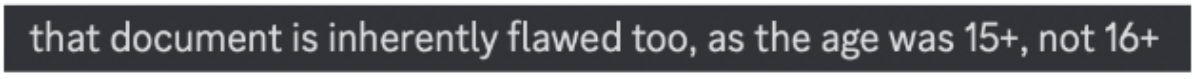
Now Greezy is seen attesting that no nudes or explicit images were ever sent. He only stated that in regards to any content involving minors, it was just minors in femboy attire, which wouldn't be illegal or explicit, just questionable or suggestive in certain context specific to the image.

Greezy states he left Homotopia however after he saw the people's ages and understood that minors were in the server. No keep in mind this is his testimony and he could be lying, however as of currently there is no proof that he knew minors were present in the server until after he posted those suggestive images of himself, in which he then decided to leave.

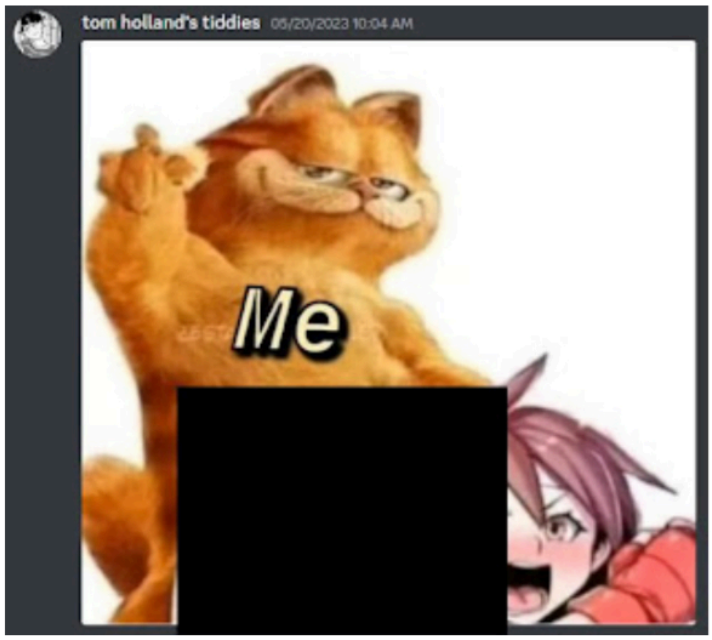
Nevertheless if his entire rendition of the situation is true; it aids Nattie Forsyth's statement that the server because increasingly degenerate to a snowball effect of progressively more suggestive content, aided by the fact that no one exactly bothered to read the rules presented in the server, and that Cammy (Parlo) wasn't active to enforce the rules and regulations that he hoped the moderation team he created would have done for him.

This is another lie that XDGAMER states in his document. The rules specifically stated that it was 15+ on the Homotopia rules channel. Additionally Cammy [Parlo] can be seen in archived messages, speaking to a mutual about 15 being the youngest age that should be allowed, because once again in his eyes, he wanted Homotopia to be a SFW hangout server for like minded LGBTQ teens, not a degenerate server.





What we know for a fact though, is that suggestive content was posted on the server, and on Parlos twitter.



People criticizing and trying to expose Parlo for Homotopia such as BloodyMarshall are also seen showing the exact same images uncensored that they are attempting to criticize. They state it's immoral to have said images posted in an environment where minors are, which is objectively true, however are then seen showing it uncensored on YouTube, in a video calling out Parlo, which is a video attracted towards trying to get Parlo's viewers to watch, in which he has a fanbase of predominantly Roblox Children, so in basic sense, you're showing what you deem as NSFW content uncensored to a potential viewer base of children arguably far younger than the 15+ limitation on the Homotopia server, and arguably far more minors than were ever present in the server. Keep in mind too on the fact that the persons video is still up on YouTube, despite doing no censoring at all.

(Screenshot from Parlos document)

(Parlo describing the server as "my funny gay discord server")

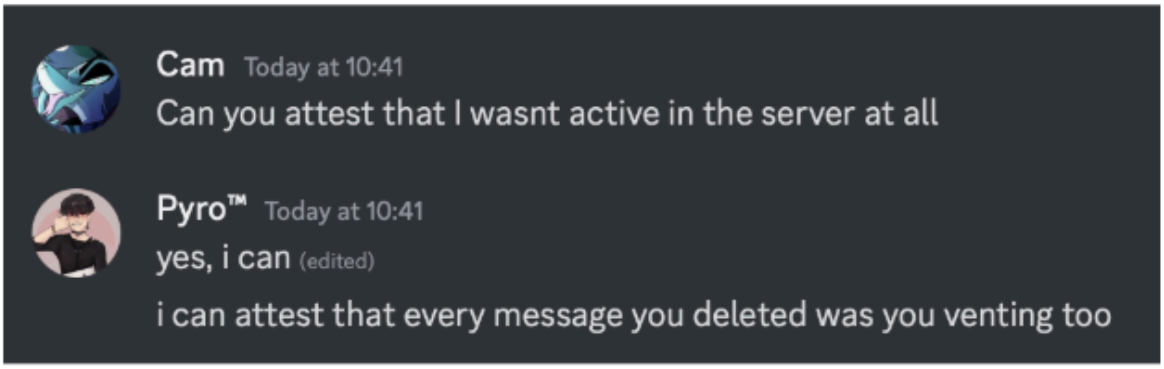
Here’s what we know from this

- Homotopia was suggestive in nature, and it’s not out of the realm of possibility that there was NSFW content on it.
- The advertising for Homotopia was not exactly in a SFW way
- Parlo frequently purged his messages within the server, which casts doubt on the alibi that he was not active or aware about what was going on.

Another reason was because Parlo was personally told that his depressive and common episodes in the Homotopia server as well as peoples DMs, were making people more inclined to not want to speak with him or in the server right after he dumped a lot of serious and upsetting information. This is yet another reason for why Parlo then purged his venting messages after he looked back on a depressive episode. Normally when people cool off and are calmer, they become more level headed and could be embarrassed by the last venting posts they had made.



Cam Today at 10:41
Can you attest that I wasnt active in the server at all Pyro™ Today at 10:41
yes, i can (edited)
i can attest that every message you deleted was you venting too

Pyro is seen testifying that Parlo mostly just vented about personal problems and then deleted said messages.

Keep in mind we do not know for sure the contents of the messages, we only have Parlos' word and the word of his associates to go off of.
Though, in my opinion, even sending messages to that server is enough to put that defense into question.

My Own Gripes with this Debunking

- Since we don't know the contents of the deleted messages for certain, and since Parlos word is not reliable, we can only assume what they were.

- Also, why would Parlo only take action after Xdgamer made an entire document about the server? Why was he not paying attention to the server most susceptible to "bad actors" given it was literally a femboy server for minors? What would have happened if that document was never made?
- Parlo brings up the point time and time again that the server was meant to be SFW and that he never stated it to be NSFW, yet what he says about how he advertised it doesn't matter if what was going on within the server was undeniably suggestive or bordering on the line of NSFW.
- If he meant it to be SFW, then it would only make sense that he would be paying attention to it to KEEP it SFW.

I also want to point out how Parlo says that a lot of the surviving images from the Homotopia server were unnecessarily censored to make them look bad, as if it makes it any better, since the images were already suggestive and borderline nsfw in nature.

XDGAMER is seen showing numerous uncensored instances of "NSFW" content that he referenced in his document. The images were allowed up on his channel with YouTube not taking them down. So either the images are not as bad as he is suggesting that they are, and he has indeed over exaggerated the severity of the situation, or by his logic; he and whoever else has shown these images uncensored, is directly and intentionally showing uncensored NSFW content to their audience. I added the orange censors to the images. The bottom image had a terrible blur to it where you could still see and easily distinguish that it was the bottom part of Big Greezys thigh in the suggestive image.

I also want you to think about if these types of images even belong on a discord server with people as young as 15.

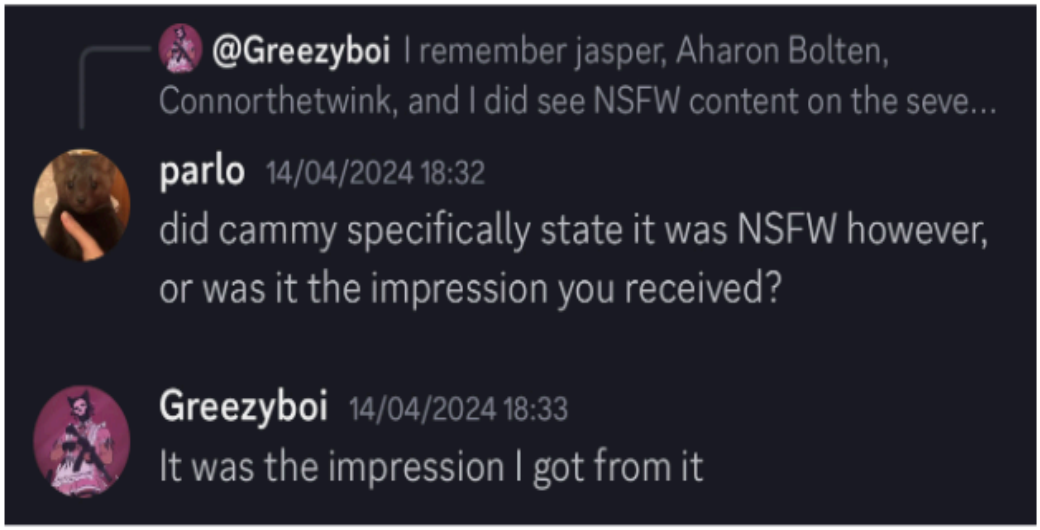
The document itself is very unorganized, doesn't stay on topic, and when it does the only real proof provided is Parlos word itself (which is known to be unreliable) or 1-3 screenshot interviews of random people, notably one of the people interviewed flat out said they thought the server was NSFW. Though, some said otherwise.



@Greezyboi I remember jasper, Aharon Bolten, Connorthetwink, and I did see NSFW content on the seve...
parlo 14/04/2024 18:32
did cammy specifically state it was NSFW however, or was it the impression you received?
Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:33
It was the impression I got from it

Greezy is seen here stating he got the impression that the server was NSFW, NOT that Cammy (Parlo) ever specifically stated that. This is because as stated before; the server was NEVER intended by Cammy (Parlo) to be an NSFW server.

It's funny how Parlo spends so much time in the document debunking absolutely useless things, like how he spent 2 whole pages explaining how there were, in fact, no 40 year olds on the server.
As if that makes the situation any better considering Parlo placed a pedophile groomer (Nattie Forsyth) as a mod.

Parlo's Self Harm Fiasco

Before I get into Parlos DM's with Dupe, we need to address a disturbing (and often overlooked) part of his behavior:  His repeated act of sending graphic self harm images to others in his community,  including a 13 year old named Kirb, back in 2022.

What you're about to read is not a one time lapse in judgement.  It's a disturbing pattern of emotionally volatile and dangerous behavior that has had real world consequences for those involved.  While Parlo has attempted to reframe these moments as mental breakdowns or mistakes from a worse time, that does not change the fact that he involved children, people younger, more vulnerable, and legally and developmentally less equipped to handle trauma like this.

This section will primarily focus on the documented case involving Kirb.  While Parlo was 16 at the time, Kirb was only 13.  That age gap combined with Parlo's influence and emotional instability created a situation like the one you are about to witness.
This cannot be brushed aside as drama, this is serious and should be treated as such.

What about Parlo sending people images of his self harm?
Is that true?
Soulless 4/12/25, 9:08 PM
Yea he sent it to 13 yr old
He apologized tho

that you need explaining
The Dupe situation, more about Nathorix? My self harm
I can discuss it if you wish

Well something that Soulless told me was that you sent self harm images to a 13 year old but apologized for it
Parlo 4/18/2025 12:12 PM
Did he have a name
I believe he was referencing Kirb
Kirb said this
77 4/18/2025 12:13 PM
No he didn't have a name
Parlo 4/18/2025 12:13 PM
it was def Kirb

(See the chapter "Interview with Parlo" for what he had to say to me about it)

Now, I was able to get into contact with Kirb, and ask them about the whole situation. This is what they had to say.

kirb iOS 4/20/2025 4:00 PM
You mean the groupchat where parlo was talking about his selfharm shit

77 4/20/2025 4:00 PM
There was an entire groupchat about that?

kirb iOS 4/20/2025 4:00 PM
That's what blaster meant as "the groupchat"

Parlo talked to me about this like a while ago and apologized to me for the shit he done so I don't know man

But

There's a group chat where he sent like, his self harm pictures and was going maniac in the group

It still exists

kirb iOS 4/29/2025 12:14 AM
But eitherway it doesn't really matter to even do this type of exposal of his self harming shenanigans considering he already apologized to me

77 4/29/2025 12:15 AM
Honestly, it still doesn't make it okay

Especially for someone with a high standing influence

It's rare to see people be held responsible for their actions nowadays

kirb iOS 4/29/2025 12:17 AM but does it really matter though? Practically everyone got pushy (from his fanbase) that he was lying over the fact he slit himself when he went out of his way to send evidence that... he's actually fucking mentally unstable

They get mad? It's weird..

It's just an odd reaction from my side

kirb iOS 4/29/2025 7:04 AM

From what I know, I'll just say this in short once again.

Ever since the mental health shit dropped on parlo, he more so turned into a maniac and didn't really give a single fuck over what he did while he was in this current state. Plus the fact that he publicly announced that he was in a state where he was wrist slitting ect, while alot came up to him saying he's "doing this for attention" which is like ??????? Which then drove him more insane and then made him be in a state where he just sends the pictures to people and he mentioned it that he sent it to others (not including people from the group chat) which then they actually felt bad. He later got the help because of a friend I know who called the police on him as a welfare check. (edited)

Interesting

Do you have any screenshots of his apology?

> I got to say, you have never done anything harmful to me (although i got affected by the self harm images) it has been 3 years ever since it has happened and i forgive you about it.

Parlo Today at 18:46
Ok so I've contacted you before about the situation but I think having a mode of contact with you for the foreseeable future may be a good thing. And I've apologised to you before hand but I am genuinely extremely sorry for the shit I sent to you and my behaviour that i conducted in 2022. I was extremely mentally unwell with a million factors affecting me at once and me self harming was a form of catharsis at a time of severe mental anguish when it came to domestic abuse or drama or irl problems. I never intended to maliciously do anything to you, especially not abuse you, manipulate you or solicit you or anything like that. At the time I didn't know your age to my knowledge nor did I know what you looked like, I just went around sharing those images as a mode of calling for help. And I'm genuinely sorry for how that could have personally affected me, I appreciate you so much for allowing me to speak with you about this again, and I have felt extremely guilty for the way I handled myself

@kirb what's your stance on all of this

Before I go any further, I'm going to establish some important things to keep in mind for the rest of the document

- Parlo had sent harmful self harm imagery to several people within his community primarily inhabited by minors.
- Parlo was/is extremely manic, mentally unstable, and generally unwell
- A friend Kirb knew had to call the police for a welfare check on Parlo

Now, let's address the image above. There are some concerning aspects and language used that I feel the need to bring to light.

1. Overjustification with Emotional Overload

"I was extremely mentally unwell with a million factors affecting me at once…"

Instead of directly acknowledging the harm done, Parlo instead front loads the apology with a lengthy emotional explanation. What this does is shift the focus away from what he did and place it onto his emotional state, effectively encouraging sympathy and discouraging scrutiny

While it's not accusatory or outwardly aggressive, it is still functionally a manipulation tactic.

Remember that manipulation can be subtle, and it's often masked so that you don't even realize you are being manipulated.

2. "I didn't know your age!" Defense

"At the time I didn't know your age to my knowledge…"

This is a non apology deflection. If Parlo didn't know the age of someone in his own community, the issue is reckless, not accidental. Trying to use ignorance of age as a buffer is a form of plausible deniability, but it doesn't negate the impact or responsibility involved.

3. Minimizing the Intent

"I never intended to maliciously do anything to you…"

This tries to center intent over impact, which is commonly observed in manipulative apologies. Whether he meant harm or not is irrelevant to the actual damage caused. This again, is a tactic to neutralize criticism before it's even voiced.

4. “Catharsis” Framing

“...Sharing those images as a mode of calling for help.”

This reframes graphic, very triggering behavior as a justified act of coping. This can be seen as emotional blackmail, turning self harm into a communication tool.

It also subtly burdens the recipient (In this case, the recipient is a 13 year old) with emotional labor that they never consented to.

It’s also worth noting that Parlo attempted to do this with me (See Interview with Parlo chapter)

5. Performative Language

“I appreciate you so much for allowing me to speak with you about this again…”

This may be opinion, but the gratitude sounds excessive and staged, as if it’s something meant to be quoted and screenshotted. Interestingly enough, this is what Parlo sent to me when I asked him about this situation. Based on what we know about Parlo, I am inferring this as image management. It’s too polished, making it appear more strategic than remorseful.

6. Lack of specific accountability

Nowhere does he say “I shouldn’t have sent those images to you.” or acknowledge the age gap in power dynamics or influence

This reframes graphic, very triggering behavior as a justified act of coping. This can be seen as emotional blackmail, turning self harm into a communication tool.

It also subtly burdens the recipient (In this case, the recipient is a 13 year old) with emotional labor that they never consented to.

Dupe Situation

(Parlo did not know Dupe was 13!)

(This section is an ongoing investigation!)

Now, this is where the REAL document starts.  Initially, this section of the document was not intended to be long, however, the more I investigated, the more I learned, so here we are.  I discovered this video while scrolling through twitter.  It details the DM's between Parlo and another person named "Dupe", and oh boy, there is a LOT.
I'll also be covering Parlo's video which responds to these allegations and "drama"

I will be linking the video showcasing Dupe's dm's in its entirety, and you may need to pause to actually read the dm's.

Honestly, there are so many alarming and disturbing things about this situation that I myself had to take several breaks during my investigation.

To start off, I will say this:
After examining the DM's between Parlo and Dupe, whether or not Parlo knew Dupe was 13 is barely the issue.  Even if Parlo was unaware of Dupe's age at the time, his conduct in those messages still remains deeply manipulative, emotionally volatile, and even borderline abusive.  The fact that Dupe was 13 at the time only makes things so much worse.

I'm going to send notable messages from their DM's now.

The self harm shit was fucked
When you're in the position I was
You cannot think clearly and you don't have the mental cognitivety to process what you were doing was wrong
I haven't been mentally diagnosed with anything so I don't know what's wrong with me, clearly something is
I wish I could explain why I did what I did, other than it was just a call for help
Not to be forcefully institutionalised
And I don't wish to drag mutuals or friends into my self deprivation situations
I just thought you were in the same boat, that is all Whether you think I'm genuine with my apology is another situation but I am
I've had these exact talks with other friends of mine too

I wish I could explain why I did what I did, other than it was just a call for help

It's a never ending situation and I don't know how it will all end
But I won't vent, or speak or share my struggles with anyone again for their sake
No one needs to be trauma dumped
I'm so sorry for the position I put you in
I looked back in old messages and saw how scared you were
I didn't say anything to you then because I wanted to move on but I know I had you on edge and I was mentally insane and shit and crazy
I just don't know how this will all go
I'm scared of the two mad situation because he delved into what I'm going through Schizo posting, no friends, maybe drugs and then suicide
With this whole situation, the self harm and all, I know and it's fine for you to view me as pathetic

I'm really fucking sorry for the fucking horrible images
Of the blood wall and arm shit
It was repulsive
Looking back
And I'll never let anyone face that shit from me again
If I ever have a problem again, I'll just keep it bottled up and shit, and not tell anyone because it damages them and people I care about around me
Being honest about my suicidality or whatever does more harm than good, getting it off my chest never works
I helped you, not because it made me feel good or for any self serving needs
But because I empathised strongly with you PM And I cared
Not for any self benefitting narrative

(This contradicts what he told me when I asked him about his misconceptions, see Interview with Parlo chapter)

Now, let's unpack all of this.

I must remind you that what you're seeing here is not just "edgy" humor, or a moment taken out of context, these are extended conversations filled with inappropriate, sexually suggestive, and manipulative behavior directed at someone Parlo knew or should have known was a minor.

Across multiple dates, Parlo engages in the following

- Sexually charged roleplay and fantasies, often with specific reference to physical traits, fetishes, and domination/submission dynamics
- Repeated proposals to meet up in person, with mentions of hotels, hugs, and makeout sessions in "femboy outfits."
- Normalization of inappropriate behavior, downplaying boundaries and attempting to reframe things as jokes, "kinks" or mutual fantasies.
- Grooming behavior, by pushing intimacy while claiming "I wouldn't do anything you didn't want." to soften the manipulation.
- Escalation into emotional abuse, evident in his guilt tripping, self harm threats, and framing his own mental state as the reason for this behavior.
- Dismissal of constant concerns, saying things like "Like they know after what they can do abt it," showing intent to override parental boundaries.

This pattern is NOT ACCIDENTAL.
It shows calculated persistence, emotional dependency, and deliberate testing of boundaries, all hallmarks of GROOMING.
If you still aren't convinced, I will go more in depth with each point.

- Sexualization and escalation:

Parlo repeatedly engaged in sexually explicit fantasies, including discussions about meeting up, kissing, making out in femboy clothing, and specific kinks like degradation, CNC, and piss play. These are not abstract or indirect. He expresses things directly to Dupe, and continues the behavior without even being able to confirm his age. This is not teasing, in fact, it can be seen as sexual grooming disguised as "openness"

- Manipulative Framing and pressure:

What's especially disturbing is the language Parlo uses to cover this behavior. He pairs suggestive statements like "if you're comfortable" and "I wouldn't do anything you wouldn't want." with explicit coercive suggestions and emotional reinforcement like "You're so cute." These phrases are not consent respecting when paired with an imbalance of power and repeated pressure.
Even if Parlo thought that Dupe was within the 16-17 age range, he was still 19 at the time with a HIGHLY INFLUENTIAL YOUTUBE

PLATFORM. It gives the illusion of choice while removing the ability to genuinely say no.

- Parental obstruction as an Obstacle, not a boundary:

Parlo openly complains about Dupes “stupid parents” interfering and blocking their ability to meet. He even suggests that if parents don't find out, “what can they do abt it,” treating parental protection as an inconvenience. That is a huge red flag.

Parlo - WAR ERA 8/8/2024 8:03 PM
Brouuuhh
Is there ANY alternate reality where we could meet in a hotel for a night
Without ur STUPID
Parents Interfering
Like if they know after what can they do abt it
Lmao
Stop u from meeting people

- Mental Health and Self Harm as Leverage:

In one instance, Parlo transitions from hypersexual talk to emotionally volatile self harm threats, mentioning stages of emotional collapse and “showing the worst thing they’ve ever seen.” He frames his suffering as a reason he might escalate, pressuring Dupe to respond with concern, guilt, and emotional labor. This is manipulation, plain and simple. It’s the psychological equivalent of cornering someone and then blaming them for trying to leave.

Even IF Parlo hadn’t known that Dupe was 13 early on, his conduct is still deeply disturbing and inappropriate for someone in their late teens to early twenties. Especially someone with influence, audience reach, and prior allegations.

Before I go any further, I managed to contact Dupe and asked them questions regarding Parlo. I will be showcasing them here.

How often did Parlo make you feel uncomfortable, disgusted, or unsure of what to say?

UNBANNED ⚡DEV 4/28/2025 4:35 PM
it was mostly during early 2024 going up to june because of all of the venting, occasionally afterwards but not as much since i was desensitized to it i just didnt know what to say kinda thought it was weird so uncomfortable yes

77 4/28/2025 4:38 PM
When Parlo vented to you about harming himself, how did he usually start it? (like would he bring it up out of nowhere, after an argument or something)

UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:39 PM
he only did it once on valentines day 2024, he sent a really long as depressing string of messages about him never being able to find love then it worsened and worsened saying how he wanted to paint his walls with blood, eventually he sent me images of him getting blood and painting it on a bathroom windows (presumably from cutting himself) then he sent an image of his arm with deep ish cuts he vented a lot though but harming himself was a one off he had said a lot about how he wanted to harm himself or take estrogen

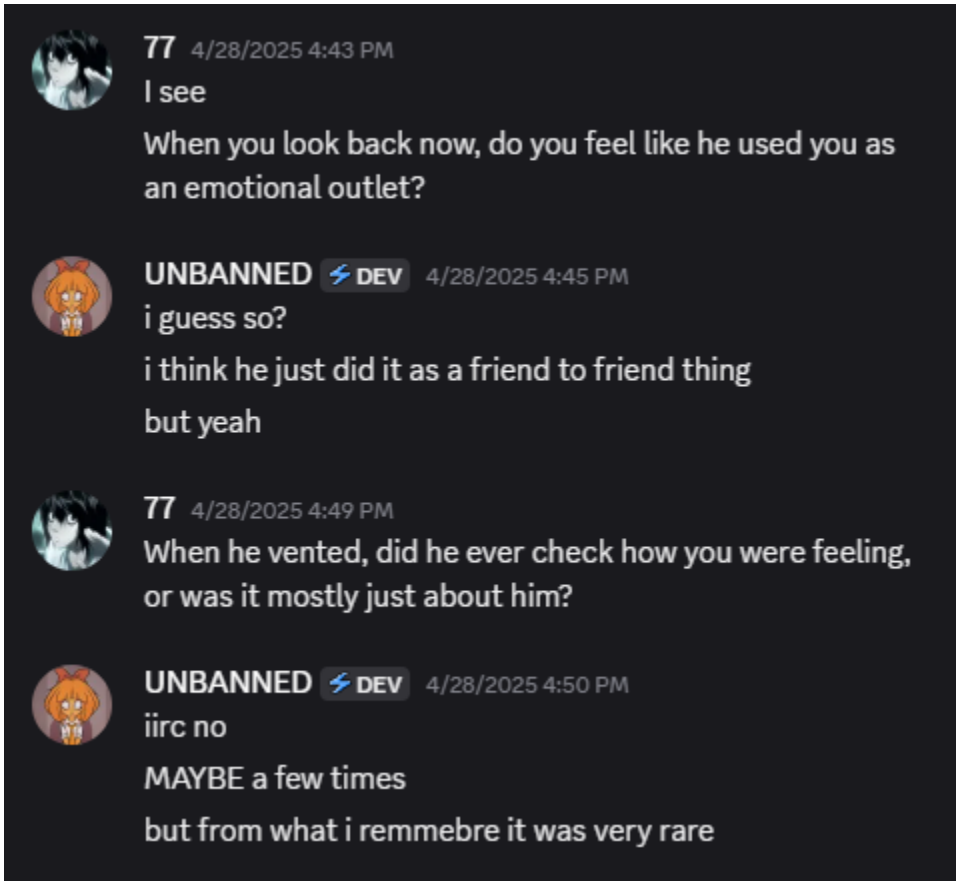
77 4/28/2025 4:42 PM
Did he ever tell you not to talk to other people about what he said to you?
ok

UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:42 PM
whenever he was reciprocating his racist jokes sometimes he jokingly said "DONT LEAK THIS BTW😭" or something like that. but not about the sexting



77 4/28/2025 4:43 PM
I see
When you look back now, do you feel like he used you as an emotional outlet?

UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:45 PM
i guess so?
i think he just did it as a friend to friend thing but yeah

77 4/28/2025 4:49 PM
When he vented, did he ever check how you were feeling, or was it mostly just about him?

UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:50 PM
iirc no
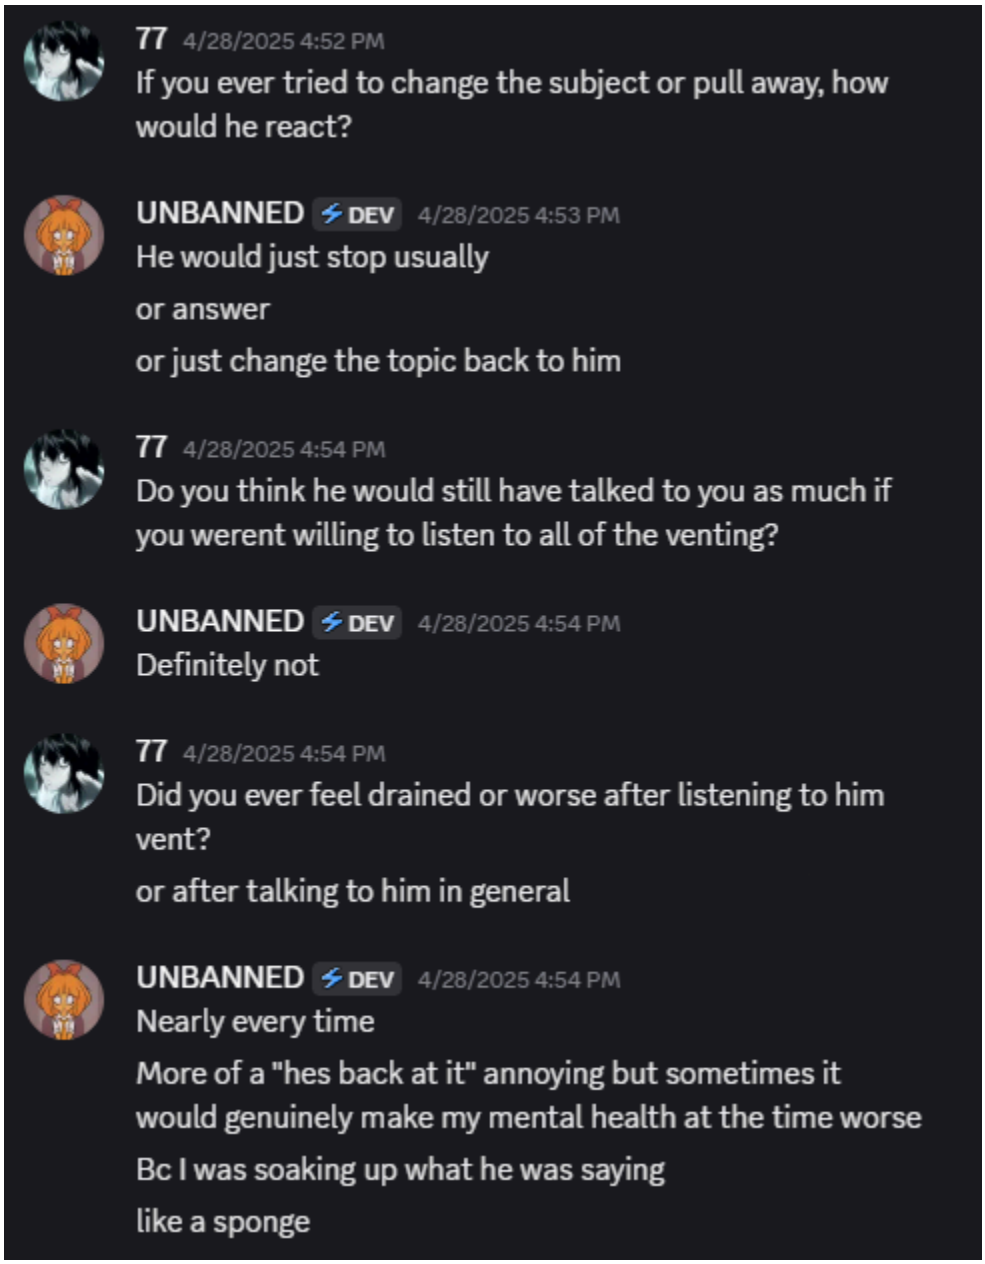
MAYBE a few times but from what i remmebre it was very rare



77 4/28/2025 4:52 PM
If you ever tried to change the subject or pull away, how would he react?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:53 PM
He would just stop usually or answer or just change the topic back to him
77 4/28/2025 4:54 PM
Do you think he would still have talked to you as much if you werent willing to listen to all of the venting?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:54 PM
Definitely not
77 4/28/2025 4:54 PM
Did you ever feel drained or worse after listening to him vent?
or after talking to him in general
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:54 PM
Nearly every time
More of a "hes back at it" annoying but sometimes it would genuinely make my mental health at the time worse
Bc I was soaking up what he was saying like a sponge

77 4/28/2025 4:57 PM
Did you ever feel like you couldn't really say no to him when he wanted to vent?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:57 PM
Yes I did
77 4/28/2025 4:59 PM
Did he ever apologize for how much he was dumping on you?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 4:59 PM
He made one big apology months after iirc but this was like over a year after if we are counting the earliest wasnt really an apology though it was just "sorry for being so personal" stuff like dat
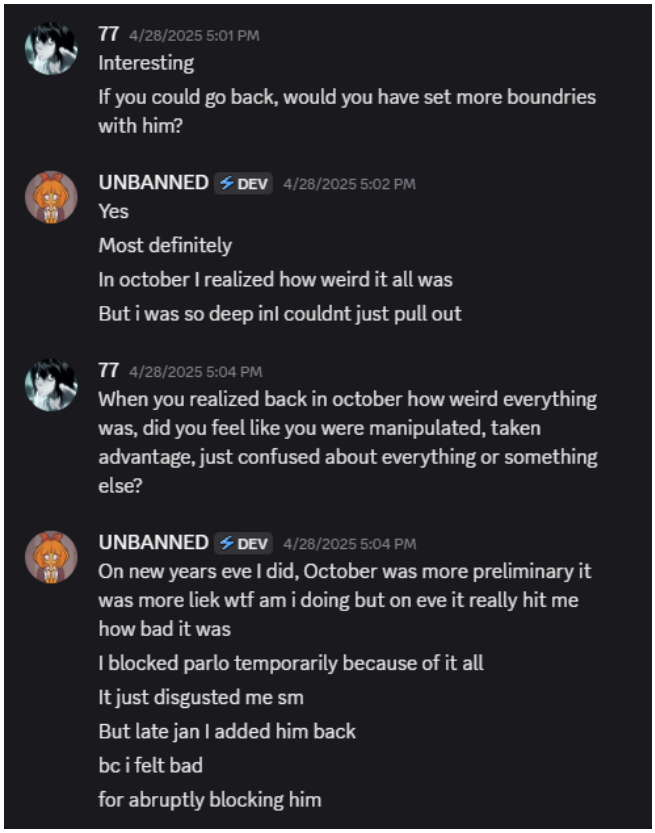
but he did it again after the apology
77 4/28/2025 5:01 PM
When you look back, do you feel like you were more like a friend or more like an emotional crutch to him?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 5:01 PM
Both



77 4/28/2025 5:01 PM
Interesting
If you could go back, would you have set more boundries with him?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 5:02 PM
Yes
Most definitely
In october I realized how weird it all was
But i was so deep inI couldnt just pull out
77 4/28/2025 5:04 PM
When you realized back in october how weird everything was, did you feel like you were manipulated, taken advantage, just confused about everything or something else?
UNBANNED DEV 4/28/2025 5:04 PM
On new years eve I did, October was more preliminary it was more liek wtf am i doing but on eve it really hit me how bad it was
I blocked parlo temporarily because of it all
It just disgusted me sm
But late jan I added him back bc i felt bad for abruptly blocking him

One of the most alarming and consistent behaviors revealed in this investigation is Parlo's use of self harm, not just as a personal expression of distress, but as a recurring method of emotional manipulation towards others.

From Kirb to Dupe, several individuals have reported Parlo sending graphic images of self harm during emotionally charged interactions.

These were not isolated incidents.

In Kirbs' case, Parlo eventually "apologized" for sending those images, yet it didn't result in any meaningful change.

Despite that apology, the same behavior repeated with Dupe.

"I didn't block him because I didn't want him to kill himself."

"The reason I could vent so realistically was because of him."

"[Parlo] said a lot about how he wanted to harm himself or take estrogen."

What these testimonies reveal is a consistent theme:  rather than seeking help through safe or private channels, Parlo frequently directed emotionally volatile content at others, often younger, more emotionally vulnerable individuals, or people whom he just flat out didn't know, effectively placing them in the uncomfortable position of emotional caretaker.

Weaponized Vulnerability

This is not about shaming someone for having mental health struggles. The issue is with how those struggles were weaponized.  Instead of fostering mutual support, Parlo created one sided emotional dependencies, where others felt responsible for his well being, but got little to no support in return.

Dupe has described feeling emotionally drained after nearly every interaction, while Kirb was made to feel responsible for harm he had no control over.

The manipulation doesn't always look aggressive, in fact, it's often wrapped in guilt, passivity, or depravity.

But the effect is still the same:

- Silence
- Control
- Forced Emotional Labor

“He made one big apology months after, but he did it again after the apology.”
This is a telling detail.  Even when confronted with the impact of his actions, he continued the same behavioral pattern.
The apology became yet another tactic.
Anyway,

I also feel the need to address something else.
As the investigation progressed, something very concerning happened: Parlo began deleting incriminating messages from his conversations with Dupe.  Specifically, he purged content from one of the accounts he used to speak to Dupe, not from the “Parlo - WAR ERA” account, which remains intact and still contains the disturbing messages.

This behavior is not just suspicious, it fits a clear pattern of avoiding accountability by rewriting or erasing the past.  In legal and ethical terms, the act of scrubbing conversations after the fact, especially once scrutiny begins, can be seen as EVIDENCE TAMPERING.
Let's be very clear.

- Deleting evidence doesn’t undo what was said.
- It signals consciousness of guilt
- It reveals an intent to mislead

Since I don’t have a surviving export of these DM’s, what I do have is the video that Dupe provided detailing all of his DM’s with Parlo, and you can see it near the end.  It is the “pa.rlo”  account.
Imagine if Dupe hadn’t archived these messages.  Imagine if the screenshots hadn’t been preserved beforehand.  If Parlo had his way, this chapter would have been erased entirely, never to be known.
It also raises questions about Homotopia, as Parlo purged messages there, too.

(Parlo didn't delete any messages that didn't make him look bad)

This response video is DEEPLY troubling, not only for its manipulative framing, but also for its blatant and apparent attempts to minimize, deflect, or redirect serious concerns. I have taken the transcript from this video, and I will be analyzing it here. I am going to format the first part of this section like this

Claim:

Reality:

What this tells us:

Ready? Let's begin.

Claim: "There was no legitimate proof provided whatsoever that I actually knew Dupe was 12 or 13."

Reality:

Even if he didn't know, again, the way he engaged with Dupe was still inappropriate, manipulative, and at times, borderline abusive, even under the assumption Parlo believed Dupe to be 16-17. Parlo being the older and more influential one, bore the burden of caution and responsibility, something he failed to uphold.

What this tells us:

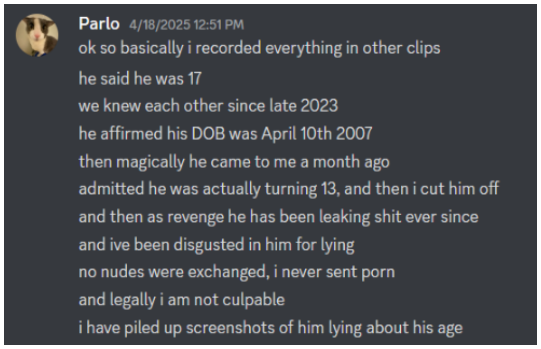
Parlo fixates on legal culpability rather than actual ethical accountability. Knowing the exact age is not a relevant factor; the power imbalance, nature of the interactions, and the failure to set boundaries are equally important or more.
This is reinforced by my interview with him (See Interview With Parlo chapter)



Parlo 4/18/2025 12:51 PM
ok so basically i recorded everything in other clips he said he was 17
we knew each other since late 2023
he affirmed his DOB was April 10th 2007
then magically he came to me a month ago admitted he was actually turning 13, and then i cut him off and then as revenge he has been leaking shit ever since and ive been disgusted in him for lying no nudes were exchanged, i never sent porn and legally i am not culpable
i have piled up screenshots of him lying about his age

Claim: “Dupe lied about his age to me and everyone else on numerous occasions”

Reality:

This is true, but it’s not an excuse. A 19 year old engaging romantically with someone whose age they cannot confirm, ESPECIALLY IN THE CONTEXT OF THE INTERNET, is reckless and irresponsible. If you can’t confirm someone's age, you don't proceed. End of story.

What this tells us:

Blame shifting. Parlo redirects attention to Dupe’s dishonesty instead of reflecting on his own decisions besides the glaring red flags.

Claim: “We only dated for a few weeks online… We did not meet up. No [explicit images] were ever shared.”

Reality:

While this may be legally relevant, and even if it is true, it does not solve the ethical issue. Emotional manipulation, inappropriate messages, and validation seeking from someone who is barely 13 is still extremely problematic.

And this is assuming that this statement is true.

Screenshots and archives confirm that Parlo in fact had plans to meet up. They also confirm that he had sent graphic self harm imagery and emotionally charged messages.

On top of that, Parlo also purged his DM’s with Dupe, which is not something that someone with nothing to hide would do. (See 2nd Dupe Archive)

What this tells us:

Parlo is minimizing. He's reducing the harm to a checklist of "what didn't happen" rather than taking accountability for the serious issues that he caused.

Claim: "I do personally apologize and take accountability for what transpired."

Reality:

This is immediately undercut by the barrage of attacks on Dupe's character, calling him a "compulsive liar", "manipulator", and saying "he did it all for clout". Accountability isn't real if it's followed or preceded by justification and slander.

What this tells us:

This is performative accountability. A common tactic to appear responsible while rejecting any actual meaningful ownership.

Claim: "The Google Drive link… literally proves himself [Dupe] to be a liar."

Reality:

Even if Dupe lied about his age, the way Parlo acts afterward remains unaddressed. Furthermore, this fails to counter the documented pattern of emotional instability, controlling behavior, and lack of boundaries that Parlo exhibited in other DM's.

What this tells us:

He weaponizes one correct point to invalidate the entire narrative, while dodging any introspection about his own choices.

Claim: "Even if Dupe is lying, I don't care. Parlo deserves to be dragged through the mud."

(Referring to someone else's comment)

Reality:

Parlo represents this quote as if it invalidates all criticism, but it's an anecdotal straw man. Most critiques don't rely on bad faith actors, they stem from legitimate concerns, backed by screenshots, DM's and interviews.

What this tells us:

This is a guilt by association fallacy.  Discrediting critics by pointing out a single extreme statement is a manipulation tactic meant to derail legitimate scrutiny.

Interview with Parlo (And What he said to me)

As soon as Parlo found out I was making a document on him, he immediately sent me a friend request on discord and started gushing walls of text attempting to explain himself regarding the Dupe situation.
I will be providing exported archives as evidence that these dms happened.
First of all, what I find interesting is how fast he responds to somebody that's making a document that could threaten their credibility, compared to how fast he responds to someone who claims to have damning evidence against an alleged pedophile.

Alright I want to speak to you about the Dupe screenshots and a plethora of other topics, I'm in the middle of making a video on Profession_Jake currently and his history of being a necrophiliac, proshipper, loli enthusiast and a groomer
But I want to focus on the screenshots that Dupe was proliferating because he was bad faith originally with leaking them
I'd like to preface the fact that I never defended what Notive did in his situation, I only stated that a 2y 11m age gap is not indicative of pedophilia, I did not say verbatim that he did not groom Alf. Even John ROBLOX stated in his own video that a 2year 11m age gap is not necessarily predatory
Also in what I said in reference to the 19 and 17 age gap, that was a joke, I said that people on Twitter were claiming it to be pedophilic, and I made a joke statement inferring that 'if they were true, i must be then', that again was not indicative of an admission, it was me joking in dms with Dupe
Also the age gap was in reference to me and Dupe, as I was under the belief he was 17, as he consistently had told me his age at the time
This was before I knew he lied consistently, not to me but other people as well, and had been leaking dms to UTTP pedophiles, or had his friends do it, and then harass me in games, but then also having him catfishing me with fake images and then slander me as a pedophile and a groomer, despite his close associates even attesting that most of the responsibility fell on him for actively taking advantage of people and lying about the truth regarding who he was and his age
I have also been working in private for the past 2 months on a document debunking XDGAMER's 'Parlo leaks' document
As I had already made a 166 page google document on his 2nd document being Homotopia
The document was being worked on until Late Feb, as attention shifted away to other things
The document is 110 pages currently
I had also made a document in reference to Dupe and his history of lying about me and being bad faith

Going back to the groupchat with soulless and sc99
Parlo 4/18/2025 11:45 AM
With Nathorix though, she provably groomed me
77 4/18/2025 11:45 AM
Weren't they all trying to tell you to stop associating with nat for the reason she was a pedophile groomer
And that was in 2023
Parlo 4/18/2025 11:45 AM
Their proof was awful
It was the Craze situation which was circumstantial at the time
The only situations we knew then was the Craze situation, sewing incident, chloegames dram and imsandra drama
I made it clear I never defended Nathorix on the sewing drama actually let me show them
*this give me 4
77 4/18/2025 11:47 AM
Okay
Parlo 4/18/2025 11:48 AM
ok
i was just getting screenshots from my unreleased document let me make a gc with my phone account
@77 I sent my side explaining the Nathorix situation Essentially Soulless and XDGAMER took jokes I said horrifically out of context and misinterpreted what I was saying

(He has nothing much to say about people warning him about Nattie Forsyth other than "Their proof was awful" and referencing past dramas)

Parlo would then add me into a group chat with his alt, and proceed to write a ton more. I got info dumped so hard I had to take an hour to process all the information.

As of editing, Parlo kicked me out of the group chat where he attempted to explain everything. So the images won't show in the exported archive.

I'm gonna show what I think are some notable things from what he said before I get into the actual serious stuff. Again, the full archive will be linked.

Parlo 4/18/2025 11:53 AM
Alright
I also have a 200-300 page google doc on XDGAMER, who was someone that Soulless allegedly worked with and shared logs to (Attempt to discredit Soulless)

Parlo 4/18/2025 11:55 AM
And I have the testimonies of people regarding the self harm situation, all going directly against the users trying to use my suicidality when I was a minor, to try and make me seem directly malicious or nefarious
And also a 200 page doc on Dupe, showing that he had posted alleged child porn completely unsolicited and consistently lied about his age
I do not wish to release the doc on Dupe however, as I did not have bad blood, but the fact that he supplied UTTP members with the messages out of context to try and defame me as a pedophile is disgusting especially when he apologised to me for catfishing me and taking advantage of me and lying about me and promising that he would never 'leak messages' or 'backstab me', when somehow UTTP pedophiles like zoophile zytherox magically have the messages and Dupe's best friends used alts to harass me in roblox servers
Tell me when you're done reading, I can answer more questions or show any proof

("I do not wish to release the document on Dupe as I do not have bad blood", This is important, as it's a blatant lie.)

Parlo 4/18/2025 12:13 PM

let me find what Kirb said

Image attachment

Image attachment

I have other instances where I had apologised too

Tmk I did not know his age, what he looked like, name or anything

And to further clarify, I did not groom solicit or abuse him or anything like that

I self harmed as catharcism and self hatred, the pain and action of doing it nullified my stress and anger and resentment and the act of doing it to myself was because of my growing suicidality at the time and lack of self care and to deflect away from the stress i had i posted it as a call for help in a way to show people i was struggling but i also did it to prove that i wasnt doing conventional 'oh woe is me im suicide baiting' like i was truly done at the time, but me being 16, and right after quarentine with my fucked up social life and ammounting pressure of family issues, domestic abuse and much more

it just amounted to me being so fucking done with life

i didnt think about the ramifications of sending the images because i was only hyperfocused on ending my own life and being free from consequence if i had the balls to go through with it all when you're severely mentally ill or in a state of manic depression your ability of mental cognitivity is severely limited and you only do things that continue to make matters worse or self deprivating behaviour that damages yourself further not an excuse or anything, i dont deny that it was a horrible thing nonetheless, but it is context for why it did take place especially when one is a minor, the effects are made 1000x worse, because with raging depression on top of puberty and shit, it over complicates the situation further, 16 year olds cannot efficiently cope with large amounts of anxiety or stress

i feel like people forget what pushed me to that stage in the first place they think it was just youtube when it was so many other reasons festering over so many years, like the domestic abuse i faced from my batshit insane father or divorce problems or body dysmorphia not to victimise myself btw, just to give context

(Parlo confirming he had sent self harm images to a 13 year old (Kirb) in his server while he was 16)

("Not to victimise myself btw" while victimising himself)

Joke out of context
Foxy was ragebaiting me with a stupid comment
I asked if he was a pedophile as a joke
I never stated that he was Foxy then stated LOL in response and said no
Full logs were shown by ex UTTP member avenger
Proving that it was a joke dialogue
Foxy started using it against me though and pretending to care about it all
And spamming it on Twitter for attention
It was some random old group chat in 2024
Where defender was giving people intel against the UTTP Empire Version 1
Defender hated Anime sucks and the pedophiles
Defender hated members of 764 and Reginmyre who were child extorters

The image I sent him was this, I have no idea the context of it, I found it in a video about Parlo and sent it to him.

I'm "harassing them", ahh yes
Dupe admits himself that he was pressuring his friends to stalk me in games
And defame me as a pedophile
His own friends snitched on him doing it
Dupe was also forwarding screenshots against me to UTTP pedophiles

This is what he had to say.

Right of the bat there are IMMEDIATE RED flags I identified

- “These people who are trying to contact you are compulsive liars and horrible people. Massive manipulators too.”

Parlo preemptively discredits anyone reaching out to me with criticism. This is a SILENCING tactic meant to discourage engagement with dissenting perspectives.

- “They created false allegations against me to insinuate I was a pedophile.  Which all of pyros fanbase have then started using to harass and defame me and give me death threats.”

Ignoring the fact this is a literal 13 year old (Dupe) he’s talking about, while harassment and death threats are unacceptable and immoral, Parlo uses their existence to sidestep the actual allegations (See the dupe section) and discredit their origin entirely.

- “They defended Pyrocynical who is a pedophile and created false allegations against me to insinuate I was a pedophile.”

Parlo conflates Dupes actions with broader unrelated parties (Pyros subreddit), and jumps to an extreme accusation.  Which is deflection and escalation.

Here’s a screenshot showing what he sent me as proof.

While the title “Parlo exposing Pyro for a 4 year age gap whilst dating a 12 year old at 19” does insinuate that he’s a pedophile and Parlo, DID NOT KNOW that Dupe was 13, it doesn’t erase the fact that Parlo did date Dupe, and had done much worse. (See Dupe section)

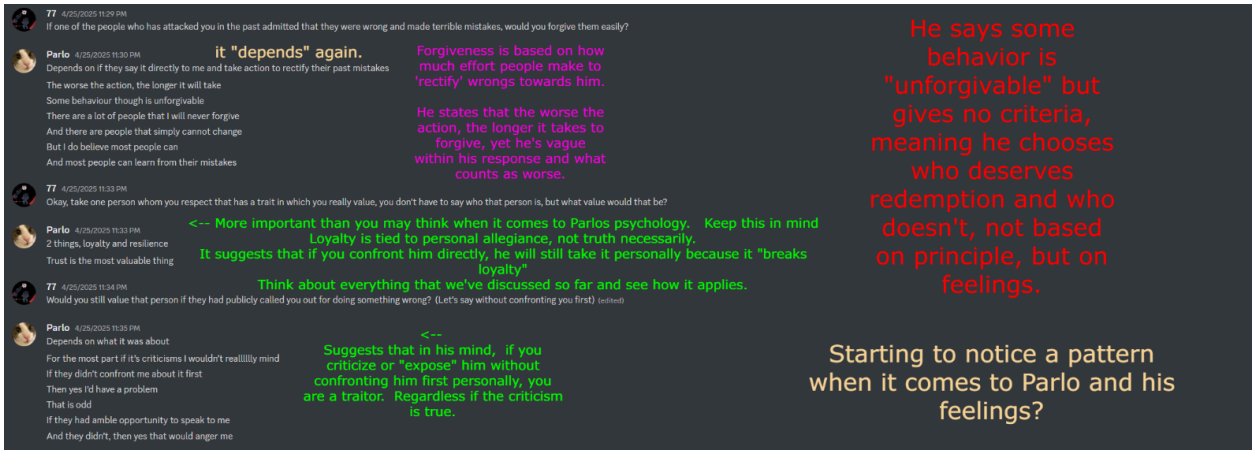
In hindsight, do you think you should have handled anything differently?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:44 PM
Yea absolutely
This shit disgusts me
77 4/25/2025 10:46 PM
What do you think your biggest mistake was during this whole thing?
Forgive me if I seem like im prying, I'm just trying to get a better idea of the type of person you are.
77 What do you think your biggest mistake was during this whole thing?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:47 PM
Not picking up on problems
Such as dupe withholding a lot of shit from me
Not revealing his voice or showing a lot abt his face
He gaslight me into thinking that he did this because he was catfished last time
And didn't want his face leaked
And was uncomfortable abt it all
Also his humour was incredibly fucking bad
And I thought he was just very antisocial and racist
I was too stupid and desperate to speak to someone my age <-- Admission that Parlo knows at some level that his loneliness drives his reckless behavior.
Basic accountability testing question
He pretends to take responsibility , but immedatily shifts the cause of the mistake onto dupe.
Parlo takes no accountability in anything he sent to Dupe.
His biggest mistake is "trusting" somebody else,  let alone somebody he couldn't even verify the age of.
He never once talks about his own judgement or actions, it's all about Dupes red flags.
Instead of a simple "I should have verified his age better", he turns what should have been a simple response to a question about himself to a full emotional narrative about someone who has wronged him.
Even when Parlo acknowledges mistakes, he portrays himself as a passive reactor to other people's deception rather than an active agent responsible for verifying trust and making better decisions.



77 4/25/2025 11:29 PM
If one of the people who has attacked you in the past admitted that they were wrong and made terrible mistakes, would you forgive them easily?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:30 PM
it "depends" again.
Depends on if they say it directly to me and take action to rectify their past mistakes
The worse the action, the longer it will take
Some behaviour though is unforgivable
There are a lot of people that I will never forgive
And there are people that simply cannot change
But I do believe most people can
And most people can learn from their mistakes
Forgiveness is based on how much effort people make to 'rectify' wrongs towards him.
He states that the worse the action, the longer it takes to forgive, yet he's vague within his response and what counts as worse.
77 4/25/2025 11:33 PM
Okay, take one person whom you respect that has a trait in which you really value, you don't have to say who that person is, but what value would that be?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:33 PM
2 things, loyalty and resilience
Trust is the most valuable thing
<-- More important than you may think when it comes to Parlos psychology. Keep this in mind Loyalty is tied to personal allegiance, not truth necessarily.
It suggests that if you confront him directly, he will still take it personally because it "breaks loyalty"
77 4/25/2025 11:34 PM
Would you still value that person if they had publicly called you out for doing something wrong? (Let's say without confronting you first) (edited)
Think about everything that we've discussed so far and see how it applies.
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:35 PM
Depends on what it was about
For the most part if it's criticisms I wouldn't reallllllly mind
If they didn't confront me about it first Then yes I'd have a problem
That is odd
If they had amble opportunity to speak to me
And they didn't, then yes that would anger me
Suggests that in his mind, if you criticize or "expose" him without confronting him first personally, you are a traitor. Regardless if the criticism is true.
He says some behavior is "unforgivable" but gives no criteria, meaning he chooses who deserves redemption and who doesn't, not based on principle, but on feelings.
Starting to notice a pattern when it comes to Parlo and his feelings?

77 4/25/2025 10:52 PM
How do you think other people would describe you if they didn't know your side of the story?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:53 PM
Probably a pedophile because dupe deliberately didn't offer the full context <-- Can't answer without immediatly blaming someone Those same people would then realise how fucking stupid they were for rushing in Without hearing my side first
And how fucking malicious it was of Dupe to do this Overconfidence that people would instantly side with him
77 4/25/2025 10:55 PM
When you post evidence about people, do you think about how it could affect their real lives, or is it just internet drama?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:56 PM
Dupe went for my throat to defend a pedophile
He is a disgusting liar
Manipulator and a pedophile defender
He also supplied logs to a CP poster UTTP member named Zytherox (edited)
And he did this exact same shit to Yaro the CP poster in 2024 (edited)
Very plain and simple, Dupe had his chance and he he chose this path
I'm absolutely not showing any pity for the disgusting shit he pulled Aversion into blaming is a common manipulation tactic to ensure that the other person starts to blame themselves instead.
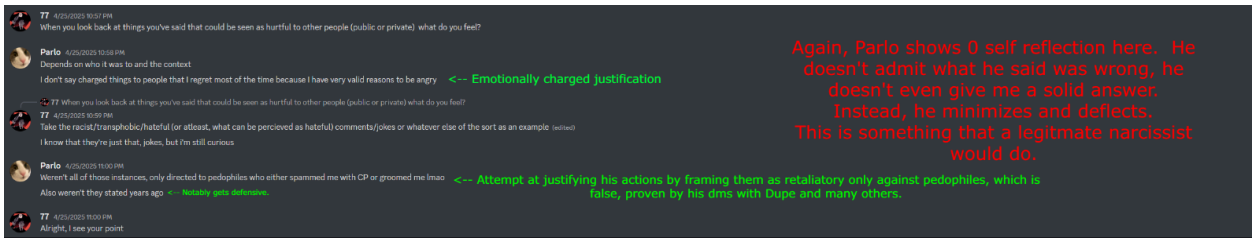
If he used this tactic toward someone emotionally vulnerable, it could easily make them feel like they were the villain, even if they had done nothing wrong.
What I find concerning is that when I asked him about whether or not he thinks of the real world consequences about what he does, he does not answer the question at all.
Instead, he goes into another emotional rant about Dupe
He avoids emotional responsability ENTIRELY.
This response alone highlights his deep emotional impulsiveness and focus on REVENGE fantasies rather than actual ETHICAL THINKING.
Keep in mind Dupe is 13.

77 4/25/2025 11:07 PM
If someone you exposed was getting harassed or stalked, but your video wasn't 100% accurate, what would you do?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:08 PM
Depends on what they did, what was stated, and what I'd be able to do to rectify the situation
Also would depend on who was stalking them
And what they could do to get rid of them and if they had contacted police about the stalking beforehand
You're gonna start to notice a pattern, as Parlo starts to answer more and more questions with "It depends", instead of giving it straight.
77 4/25/2025 11:10 PM
How responsable do you feel for how your fans act toward people you criticise/expose?
I'm almost done asking questions, that's why theyre more general
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:10 PM
No creator is fully able to control fans especially when they have >400k actual followers via longform and not short slop content
Statistically some people who are subbed will be murders
So statistically it is improbable that at least a fraction will disregard disclaimers
And go out to do harassment on their own volition
I'm not a parent and I can coddle people and tell them what to do and what not to do
I can advise them to not harass
But I can't just not call out bad people because of the idea that a fraction of people who watch my video (most who will be mature and level headed), will be stupid in regards to processing the information
Here you can see him minimizing his responsability for harrassment by making a sort of slippery slope argument. Instead of addressing his OWN influence over his fanbase, he instead generalizes into extreme hypotheticals. Which implies that he shouldn't be held accountable.
This isn't a healthy way to think about influence, especially for a drama youtuber with more than half a million subscribers.
What he's doing is minimizing personal impact while pretending to acknowledge it.
77 4/25/2025 11:12 PM
I see
When you make a serious accusation, what do you think the minimum proof standard should be?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:14 PM
Discord mobile screen recordings
Bare minimum
Those are exceptionally hard to fabricate
A video of them clicking the profile making the statements
Showing it is them
He claims to have a very high standard for proof, yet many accusations he has made in the past have been based off of screenshots. Sometimes even word of mouth.
77 4/25/2025 11:16 PM
If someone whom you were personally friends with (and they have a social media prescense, like a youtube channel for example, and had done no wrong to you), were exposed for doing bad things, would you expose them publicly or handle it privately? What would you do?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:19 PM
Depends on what they did and if it was conclusive
If it was indefensible I'd need to make some form of statement if they are a large figure
If they were small I'd just cut them off
Make some small comment to those questioning it on Twitter
This says the most about him. He only feels obligated to act if someone is influential.
If they're smaller, he'd only quietly sever ties and the public never has to know "unless they ask".
This is selective outrage and judgement.
This is called "Situational Ethics", he acts based on public perception, not on his own values or morals



77 4/25/2025 10:57 PM
When you look back at things you've said that could be seen as hurtful to other people (public or private) what do you feel?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:58 PM
Depends on who it was to and the context
I don't say charged things to people that I regret most of the time because I have very valid reasons to be angry <-- Emotionally charged justification
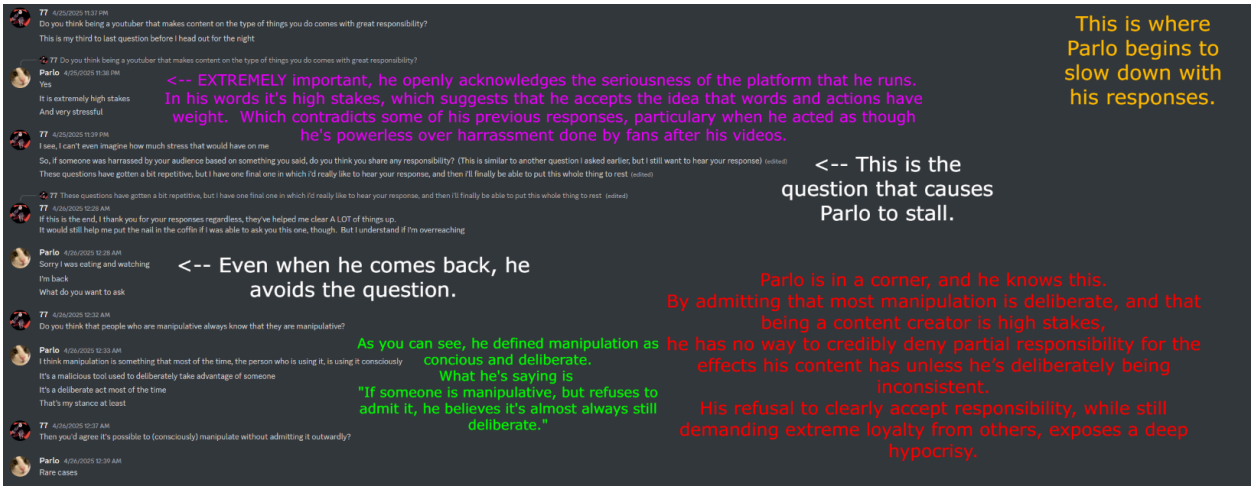
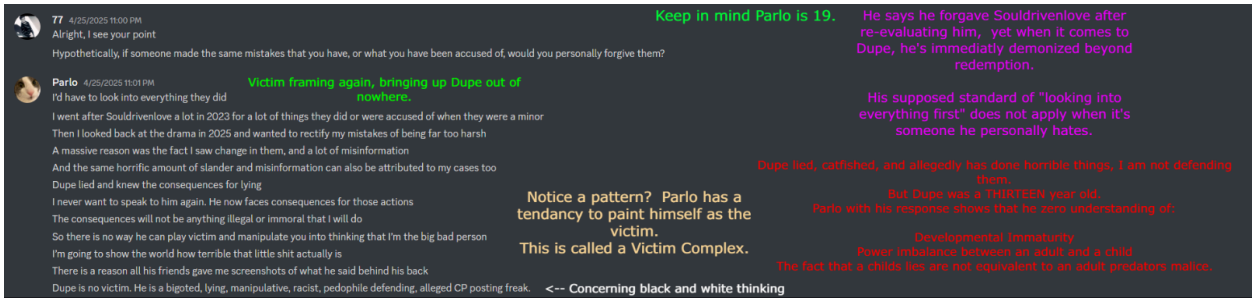
77 When you look back at things you've said that could be seen as hurtful to other people (public or private) what do you feel?
77 4/25/2025 10:59 PM
Take the racist/transphobic/hateful (or atleast, what can be percieved as hateful) comments/jokes or whatever else of the sort as an example (edited)
I know that they're just that, jokes, but i'm still curious
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:00 PM
Weren't all of those instances, only directed to pedophiles who either spammed me with CP or groomed me lmao
Also weren't they stated years ago
<-- Notably gets defensive.
<-- Attempt at justifying his actions by framing them as retaliatory only against pedophiles, which is false, proven by his dms with Dupe and many others.
77 4/25/2025 11:00 PM
Alright, I see your point
Again, Parlo shows 0 self reflection here. He doesn't admit what he said was wrong, he doesn't even give me a solid answer. Instead, he minimizes and deflects. This is something that a legitmate narcissist would do.



77 4/25/2025 11:37 PM
Do you think being a youtuber that makes content on the type of things you do comes with great responsibility?
This is my third to last question before I head out for the night
77 Do you think being a youtuber that makes content on the type of things you do comes with great responsibility?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:38 PM
Yes
It is extremely high stakes
And very stressful
<-- EXTREMELY important, he openly acknowledges the seriousness of the platform that he runs. In his words it's high stakes, which suggests that he accepts the idea that words and actions have weight. Which contradicts some of his previous responses, particulary when he acted as though he's powerless over harrassment done by fans after his videos.
This is where Parlo begins to slow down with his responses.
77 4/25/2025 11:39 PM
I see, I can't even imagine how much stress that would have on me
So, if someone was harrassed by your audience based on something you said, do you think you share any responsibility? (This is similar to another question I asked earlier, but I still want to hear your response) (edited)
These questions have gotten a bit repetitive, but I have one final one in which i'd really like to hear your response, and then i'll finally be able to put this whole thing to rest (edited)
<-- This is the question that causes Parlo to stall.
77 These questions have gotten a bit repetitive, but I have one final one in which i'd really like to hear your response, and then i'll finally be able to put this whole thing to rest (edited)
77 4/26/2025 12:26 AM
If this is the end, I thank you for your responses regardless, they've helped me clear A LOT of things up.
It would still help me put the nail in the coffin if I was able to ask you this one, though. But I understand if I'm overreaching
Parlo 4/26/2025 12:28 AM
Sorry I was eating and watching
I'm back
What do you want to ask
<-- Even when he comes back, he avoids the question.
77 4/26/2025 12:32 AM
Do you think that people who are manipulative always know that they are manipulative?
Parlo 4/26/2025 12:33 AM
I think manipulation is something that most of the time, the person who is using it, is using it consciously
It's a malicious tool used to deliberately take advantage of someone
It's a deliberate act most of the time
That's my stance at least
As you can see, he defined manipulation as concious and deliberate.
What he's saying is
"If someone is manipulative, but refuses to admit it, he believes it's almost always still deliberate."
77 4/26/2025 12:37 AM
Then you'd agree it's possible to (consciously) manipulate without admitting it outwardly?
Parlo 4/26/2025 12:39 AM
Rare cases
Parlo is in a corner, and he knows this. By admitting that most manipulation is deliberate, and that being a content creator is high stakes, he has no way to credibly deny partial responsibility for the effects his content has unless he's deliberately being inconsistent.
His refusal to clearly accept responsibility, while still demanding extreme loyalty from others, exposes a deep hypocrisy.



77 4/25/2025 11:00 PM
Alright, I see your point
Hypothetically, if someone made the same mistakes that you have, or what you have been accused of, would you personally forgive them?
Keep in mind Parlo is 19.
He says he forgave Souldrivenlove after re-evaluating him, yet when it comes to Dupe, he's immediatly demonized beyond redemption.
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:01 PM
Victim framing again, bringing up Dupe out of nowhere.
I'd have to look into everything they did
I went after Souldrivenlove a lot in 2023 for a lot of things they did or were accused of when they were a minor
Then I looked back at the drama in 2025 and wanted to rectify my mistakes of being far too harsh
A massive reason was the fact I saw change in them, and a lot of misinformation
And the same horrific amount of slander and misinformation can also be attributed to my cases too
Dupe lied and knew the consequences for lying
I never want to speak to him again. He now faces consequences for those actions
The consequences will not be anything illegal or immoral that I will do
So there is no way he can play victim and manipulate you into thinking that I'm the big bad person
I'm going to show the world how terrible that little shit actually is
There is a reason all his friends gave me screenshots of what he said behind his back Dupe is no victim. He is a bigoted, lying, manipulative, racist, pedophile defending, alleged CP posting freak.
<-- Concerning black and white thinking
His supposed standard of "looking into everything first" does not apply when it's someone he personally hates.
Dupe lied, catfished, and allegedly has done horrible things, I am not defending them.
But Dupe was a THIRTEEN year old.
Parlo with his response shows that he zero understanding of:
Developmental Immaturity
Power imbalance between an adult and a child
The fact that a childs lies are not equivalent to an adult predators malice.
Notice a pattern? Parlo has a tendancy to paint himself as the victim.
This is called a Victim Complex.

77 4/25/2025 11:20 PM
Do you think good intentions excuse bad outcomes?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:21 PM
Depends again
I think for a case like LisaFiles then yes (edited)
Not necessarily excuse
But add crucial context for why the person was not malicious
So if your question is excuse and if I answer directly, then no
But I do think it nullifies the situation and makes it criticisable
But not cancel worthy or life ruining
<-- More insight on him, and again, it depends.
77 4/25/2025 11:23 PM
What do you think is the biggest misconception people have about you?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:23 PM
That I'm in it for the money
And don't care about what I talk about
And that I play victim when I'm not the victim
And that I'm a pedophile
And that I knew Nathorix was a pedo and remained friends nonetheless
And that homotopia was a grooming server
And that I suicide bait
Notice how Parlo describes misconcpetions about himself.
Every misconception is blamed on "spiteful haters", not on his own communication patterns
He doesn't seriously entertain that maybe some of these perceptions arose from the way he handled things poorly or from real mistakes.
77 4/25/2025 11:25 PM
Do you think that these misconceptions exist because of how you handled past situations? (For example, that you're in it for the money or that you play victim)
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:26 PM
Not necessarily, I think some people are just massive spiteful bastards and want an excuse to justify their hatred towards me
Even if that is massively overplaying situations or being malicious in regards to me
They do this to other creators too
It's the internet and it happens
But most negative shit said about me isn't true (edited)
<--
"If people think bad things about me, it must be because they're evil, not because I gave them any reason."
This keeps him from taking meaningful responsibility.
77 4/25/2025 11:27 PM
Do you believe that people can change after making mistakes?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:27 PM
Yes
Depends on what they do and say in regards to their situation
If they consistently downplay and lie about their situation
Then they obviously have not learnt
When asked whether these misconceptions came from how he handled past situations, he immediately denies it ("Not necessarily") and blames others ("massive spiteful bastards").
This refusal stops him from growing as a person. It's why Parlo is in a destructive cycle.
Parlo says he believes that people can change after mistakes only if they don't "consistently downplay and lie about it."
Ironically, this is exactly what he himself is doing:
Downplaying.
Reframing.
Blaming others.
Yet he doesn't apply the same harsh judgment toward his own behaviors.
This is coming from Parlo himself. These are HIS words.
Additionally, he talks as if he's offering a "fair" view, but the emotional charge is VERY CLEAR.
Keep this in mind, if you're a youtuber who has spoken with Parlo, know that conversations with him are never truly "free" They are subtly pressured towards reinforcing HIS version of events.

77 4/26/2025 12:42 AM
So here's a hypothetical, if someone was manipulating others but never admitted to it publicly, would you assume they were doing it on purpose?
77 4/26/2025 1:18 AM
Well, you don't need to answer that right now
77 So, if someone was harrassed by your audience based on something you said, do you think you share any responsibility? (This is similar to another question I asked earlier, but I still want to hear your response) (edited)
77 4/26/2025 1:18 AM
This is also important
77 4/26/2025 2:28 PM
I'm just checking in one final time. If I don't hear anything back, I'm going to assume you're choosing not to respond to these last few questions, and I'll respect that. Thanks again for taking the time to respond anyway
Parlo 4/26/2025 2:28 PM
I was asleep
It was 6am
I'm in call right now
I'll speak later
77 4/26/2025 2:29 PM
Alright then
77 4/26/2025 9:45 PM
Well
Parlo 4/26/2025 9:48 PM
Do you mind
77 So here's a hypothetical, if someone was manipulating others but never admitted to it publicly, would you assume they were doing it on purpose?
Parlo 4/26/2025 9:48 PM
How would I know if they never admitted it???
And why should I be concerned if it wasn't purposeful??
How is that in any grounds comparable or nearly as bad as purposeful manipulation
Parlo And why should I be concerned if it wasn't purposeful??
77 4/26/2025 9:50 PM
I'm not saying you that you should be concerned, I just want to know more about your general view on responsibility.
For example, if someone accidently manipulated others without ever admitting it, I would want to know if you still think it matters, even if it wasn't outwardly intentional
I want to make it very clear that I am not trying to accuse anyone of anything, I just want to understand more how you see responsibility
Again, sorry if I'm prying, my goal is just to better understand everything so I can fairly respond to people who've contacted (and keep contacting) me about you.
77 4/26/2025 11:35 PM
If you don't want to answer anymore, just let me know, so I can move forward based on what I have (fairly of course).
I'm just asking for clarity, I want to conclude things properly.
As the timestamps show, I've waited hours for any type of response
Bad faith engagement (arguing semantics to avoid substance)
Deflection tactic
My guess is that he feels threatened that he cannot weasel his way out of answering the question honestly, so he's resorting to evasion.
This tells me two things:
He does not want to engage with questions that could corner him logically.
Instead of saying "I don't know" or "I don't want to answer" (which would have been respectable), he plays delaying games and semantic tricks.
To avoid answering what to Parlo is a difficult question, he begins to stall me out, probably hoping I would drop it.
To put it simply,
Parlo was willing to answer tons of easy questions in detail (walls of text), but as soon as I started asking fair questions about personal responsability, he ran.
This proves 2 HUGE things about his mindset:
He selectivley engages ONLY when he feels in control.
He refuses to engage seriously with resposnability UNLESS he can spin it in his favor.
(True responsibility is terrifying for someone whose defense relies on reframing himself as a victim.)

Finished reading? Here's the conclusion and overall breakdown regarding the Dupe situation I got from this.

Parlo's claimed "accountability" is undermined by his own words

If we look at the transcript from his latest video, he says this at 08:28

- "...I do personally apologize and take accountability for what transpired."

Contradicted by

Character assasination of Dupe

"I'm going to show the world how terrible that little shit actually is."

"Dupe lied and knew the consequences for lying"

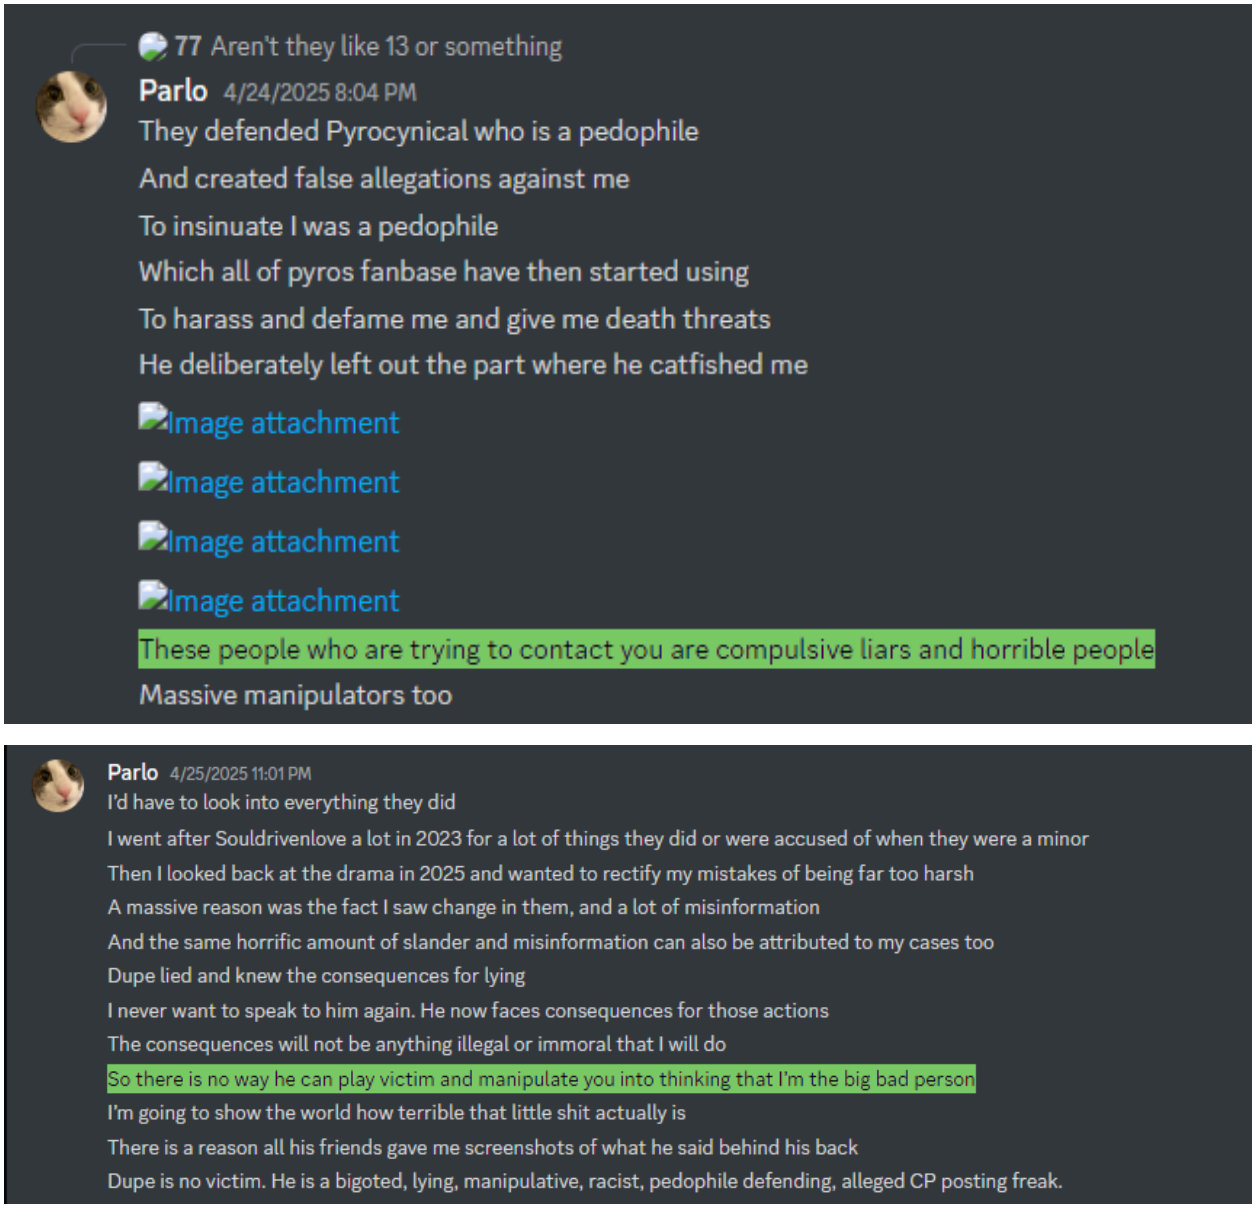
The question had nothing to do with Dupe, Parlo brought him up completely unprompted.

It's also important to recognize that Dupe had just turned 13 at the time. They were significantly younger, both in age and mental maturity compared to Parlo (Who was 19) and could not possibly grasp the full consequences of their actions.

This doesn't excuse everything Dupe has done, but it does explain why treating them with the same accountability as an older, much more influential person like Parlo is unethical and inappropriate. I am not defending them, I am stating the reality of the age, power, and maturity gap.

Deflection from Allegations through broad vilification and exaggeration

- "These people who are trying to contact you are compulsive liars and horrible people."
- "So there is no way he can play victim and manipulate you into thinking that I'm the big bad person."



77 Aren't they like 13 or something
Parlo 4/24/2025 8:04 PM
They defended Pyrocynical who is a pedophile
And created false allegations against me
To insinuate I was a pedophile
Which all of pyros fanbase have then started using
To harass and defame me and give me death threats
He deliberately left out the part where he catfished me

This shows a pattern of emotionally loaded language intended to discredit others instead of actually addressing the issue.
As I said before, he is trying to preemptively discredit people who may have information regarding him before they even reach me.

It's also worth noting that Parlo seemed to assume that I was a Youtuber or some kind of figure being "fed" information, while that was not the case. Nobody sent me anything, I wasn't approached by anyone or handed a narrative.

I asked my own questions, cross referenced statements, and paid close attention to inconsistencies and behavioral patterns as a part of my own independent investigation.

If you're a content creator who has spoken to Parlo or who has plans to, I urge you to do the same. Don't take his version of events at face value.

Investigate independently and question everything. Preferably with an alt.

Minimization and Inconsistency Regarding Dupe

- "I do not wish to release the doc on Dupe however, as I do not have bad blood."

  Contradicted by
- "And also a 200 page doc on Dupe, showing that he had posted alleged child p*rn completely unsolicited…"
- "He now faces consequences… I'm going to show the world how terrible that little shit actually is"
- His video on Dupe

It's obvious Parlo held animosity and was planning RETALIATION, despite lying and claiming otherwise.

Pattern of Dehumanization and Denial of important context that Dupe is 13

- "Very plain and simple, Dupe had his chance and he chose this path"
- "I was too stupid and desperate to speak to someone my own age." (In regards to his own reasoning)

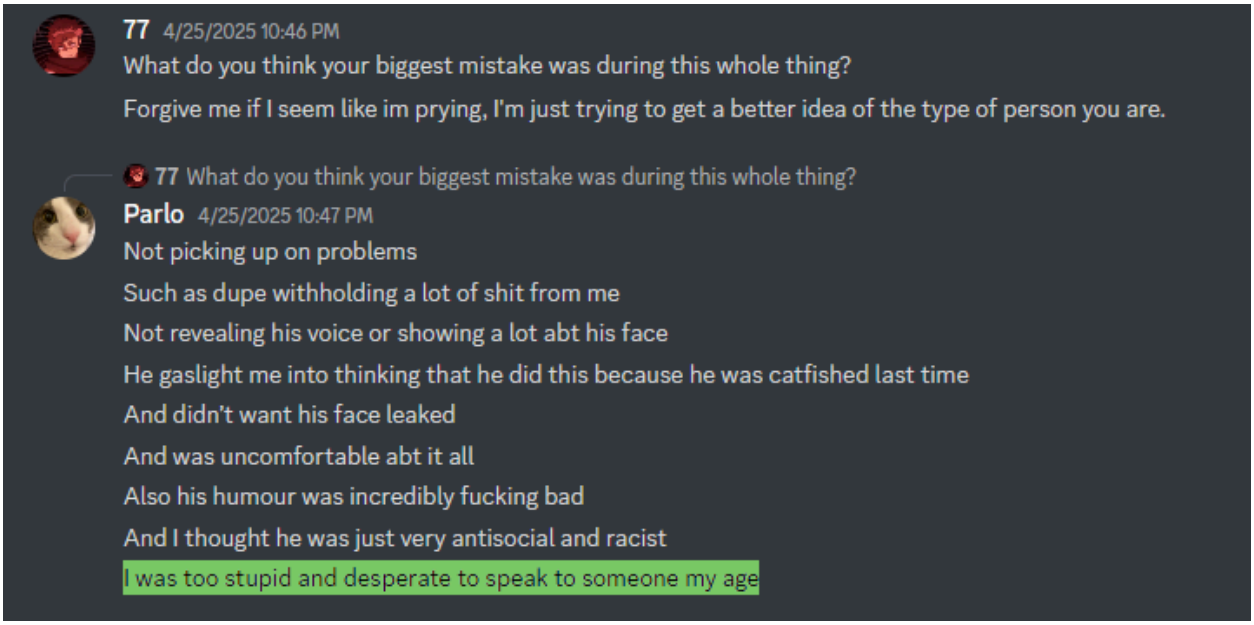
When you post evidence about people, do you think about how it could affect their real lives, or is it just internet drama?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:55 PM
Dupe went for my throat to defend a pedophile
He is a disgusting liar
Manipulator and a pedophile defender
He also supplied logs to a CP poster UTTP member named Zytherox (edited)
And he did this exact same shit to Yaro the CP poster in 2024 (edited)
Very plain and simple, Dupe had his chance and he he chose this path
I'm absolutely not showing any pity for the disgusting shit he pulled



77 4/25/2025 10:46 PM

Forgive me if I seem like im prying, I'm just trying to get a better idea of the type of person you are.
77 What do you think your biggest mistake was during this whole thing?
Parlo 4/25/2025 10:47 PM
Not picking up on problems
Such as dupe withholding a lot of shit from me
Not revealing his voice or showing a lot abt his face
He gaslight me into thinking that he did this because he was catfished last time
And didn't want his face leaked
And was uncomfortable abt it all
Also his humour was incredibly fucking bad
And I thought he was just very antisocial and racist
I was too stupid and desperate to speak to someone my age

He simultaneously infantilizes himself (As a 19 year old), while holding a 13 year old (Dupe) to ADULT MORAL STANDARDS.

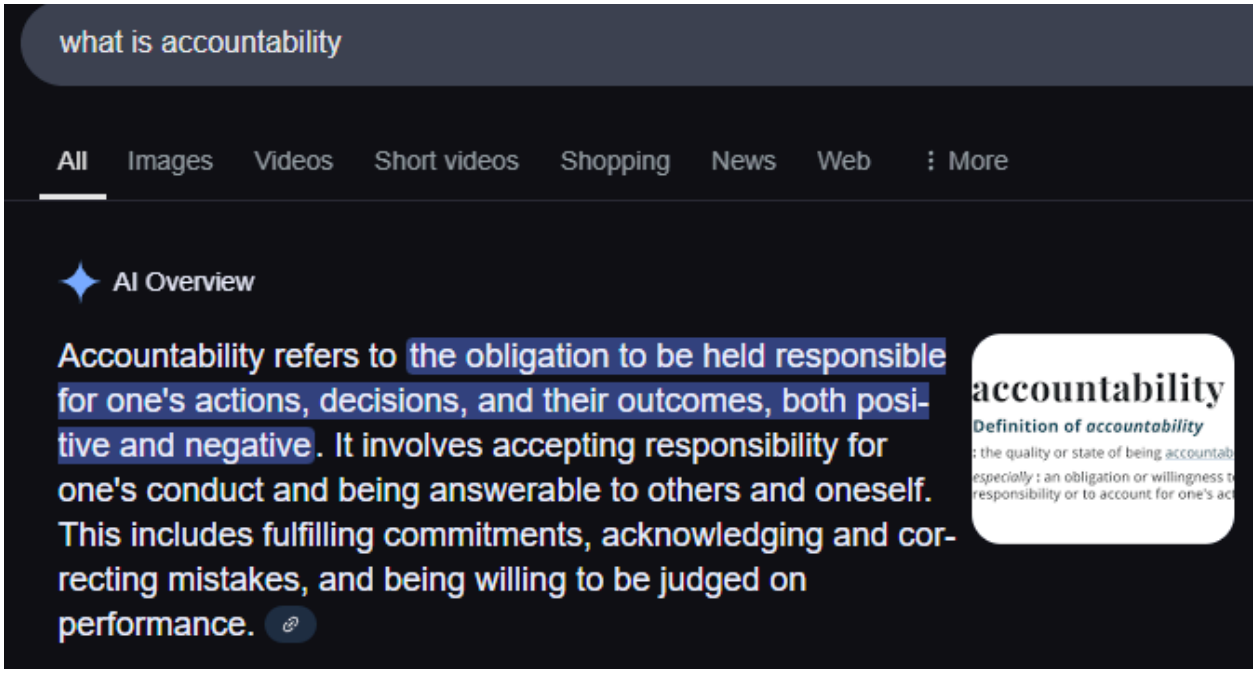
Now, I'm going to take a break to discuss ACCOUNTABILITY.
As Google puts it,



what is accountability

AI Overview
Accountability refers to the obligation to be held responsible for one's actions, decisions, and their outcomes, both positive and negative. It involves accepting responsibility for one's conduct and being answerable to others and oneself. This includes fulfilling commitments, acknowledging and correcting mistakes, and being willing to be judged on performance.
accountability
Definition of accountability

Accountability refers to the obligation to be held responsible for one's actions, decisions, and their outcomes, both positive and negative.

Even though Parlo may claim to take accountability, his actions and words show nothing but the opposite.
While he states in his video: “I do apologize and take accountability for what transpired.”, he immediately deflects the blame onto Dupe, calling him a liar, manipulator, and worse, which undermines any actual genuine responsibility. Rather than focusing on how his actions affected a vulnerable 13 YEAR OLD (Dupe), Parlo minimizes his actions by framing his behavior as “vent posts” or “cringe,” while hiding behind excuses like emotional distress.
He shows no evidence of genuine reflection, behavior change, or sincere remorse. Instead, his apology merely serves as a PR tactic meant to dismiss criticism while continuing to CENTER HIMSELF AS THE VICTIM.
True accountability requires self awareness, empathy, and growth, none of which he demonstrates.
No change = no sincerity
No apology = no accountability
If you can’t specifically name who you hurt and how it impacted others, or offer an actual SINCERE APOLOGY without resorting to excuses, attacks, or blame shifting, that is not accountability. That is just making sure you don’t look bad.
In other words..
Saying “I take accountability” without explaining what was wrong, why it was wrong, and WHO was harmed, just makes it a hollow gesture. It’s simply a performance, not indicative of growth.

Now, it’s time to unpack my final exchange with Parlo.

77 4/28/2025 7:28 PM
Hey. I've spent the past few weeks or so thoroughly looking at and reviewing absolutely everything. Your statements, behaviors, testimonies from people you've affected, and consistent patterns throughout the years.
This is going to be the last time I speak to you, as I want to offer you one last opportunity to take real accountability, not to save face or initiate any damage control, but to just do the right thing. After this point, everything I've gathered will be sent out to the appropriate people and handled how it must be. Whether you respond or not is entirely up to you.
I don't believe you're 100% irredeemable, but at the end of the day actions speak louder than words.

Parlo 4/28/2025 7:30 PM
You have deliberately not stated anything that you are going to cover and have been gatekeeping from me and my associates for the greater part of 2 weeks. I have given you numerous instances to tell me what situations you will cover that I can offer my stance on, to which you have not given me anything.

Soulless and the others that I can only assume you spoke to will hinder any possible situation because they themselves have a long history of doing absolutely deplorable things

And from what I saw with your DMs with Dupe, it was evident that you wanted to create some agenda or narrative that simply was not true

There is no testimony from people I've affected because Soulless is a serial doxxer who harassed me and my mods in 2022, and ditto to others, and SC99 last time I spoke to him, had an absolutely mentally insane breakdown to me, in which was caused in greater part, because Soulless backstabbed him and worked with a pedophile to get heat off himself

The only thing I can presume is the suicidal mental breakdowns I had in 2022/2023 in terms of a close friend I had at the time. But that is the only thing I can necessarily think about that you're even referring to

You have an open opportunity to tell me who these people are and what situations you are referencing

Or this will be shown in whatever response video I must make

Because I know exactly what you're doing. You're not being transparent and withholding information before I can address it fully, because you yourself came in with the Nathorix, Dupe and XDGAMER points to which were very much completely nullified because the people giving you the information were extremely untrustworthy individuals

Watch my video on Dupe, and understand that I can and will absolutely make other videos exposing the lies of anyone who slanders me or platforms bad people against me

I've been more than open and transparent to you, but it seems you haven't in regards to me

So simply, you have an opportunity to tell me what these situations are so I can address them

Otherwise you're being purposefully ambiguous and it is impossible for me to understand this deliberately cryptic act you're putting on

77 4/28/2025 7:43 PM
Welp, I've given you the opportunity to actually reflect and maybe even take accountability. Instead the only thing this response tells me is that you've chosen to deflect project, and intimidate. Your response does nothing but reinforce everything that I've observed. I have nothing further to say besides the fact actions have consequences. Goodbye.

Parlo 4/28/2025 7:44 PM
Gatekeeping will not fare well for you.

Thank you for not telling me any of the situations and instead pushing me to take accountability on situations that I know nothing about because you've deliberately not told anyone

There is so much to unpack with this, this may be the most telling exchange I have ever had with Parlo.
Let's start with this

Manipulative Framing and Deflection

- "You have deliberately not stated anything that you are going to cover and have been gatekeeping from me…"

Parlo attempts to control the narrative here by accusing me of withholding information, despite being given opportunities to take general accountability.
This is a classic DARVO (Deny, Attack, Reverse Victim and Offender) manipulation tactic.
Rather than address his own behavior, he instead projects blame onto me and tries to reframe me as secretive or malicious, despite barely knowing me.

Blaming others to Avoid Responsibility

- "Soulless is a serial doxxer… SC99 had a mental breakdown caused in part by Soulless working with a p*dophile.."

Here Parlo invokes past dramas and people unrelated to the current confrontation, using them as scapegoats to excuse and distract from the issues that I raised.
A pattern I observed is that he consistently externalizes blame instead of focusing on his own actions.

Guilt tripping and Power Games

- "You have an open opportunity to tell me who these people are…"
- "Or this will be shown in whatever response video I must make."

Here, he basically tries to guilt trip me into disclosing sources and information preemptively, despite again, the conversation being about PARLO. He also threatens retaliation against me, which I find alarming, as it implies he will spin his own narrative if I don't give him full control of the situation.

Paranoia and Control

- "You're not being transparent and withholding information before I can address it fully…"
- "Watch my video on Dupe…"

Parlo assumes he is being conspired against, and seems to believe that everything is a setup.
The idea that someone could be conducting independent research without malicious motives seems incomprehensible to him.
This suggests that he has a deep need for control and a lack of emotional maturity when handling criticism, a pattern we can see more often if we check his twitter.

Emotional Manipulation Posed as Transparency

- "I've been more than open and transparent."

This is just plain gaslighting. Parlo repeatedly has shown evasion, deflection, and vague "I take accountability" statements that are NEVER backed up by concrete change or self awareness.
Claiming he's been open is an attempt to rewrite history.

And finally, the veiled threat.

- "Gatekeeping will not fare well for you."

This is the most blatant RED FLAG I have seen.
It's a passive aggressive threat, intended to warn or intimidate me from going public with everything I have gathered.

It's textbook manipulative behavior:
One last power move meant to discourage exposure.

Now, before I go onto the next chapter there is one line he said that I want to address.

- "And from what I saw with your DMs with Dupe, it was evident that you wanted to create some agenda or narrative that simply was not true"

I'm gonna infer what Parlo's "Agenda Accusation" was attempting to do with this statement based on previous observations.

- Discredit me personally, so readers doubt my intentions instead of focusing on the evidence.
- Poison the well, by attempting to frame me as biased from the outset, attempting to discredit anything I say before others even hear it.
- Divert focus away from his own accountability, by shifting to my motive, trying to turn what effectively is a conversation about actions into a debate about intentions.
  (This is a logical fallacy: Motive Fallacy. If I had an "agenda" or not is irrelevant if the evidence stands on its own)

- Paint himself as the Victim of a Smear Campaign (Yet again), by framing "Soulless and the others" as inherently untrustworthy and assuming that I'm aligned with them, without evidence.
  This is an ad hominem + guilt by association tactic meant to paint himself as the center of some sort of conspiracy and position himself as besieged and unfairly persecuted.

Now, let's look at

How Dissent is handled internally within Parlos circles.

(This section is an ongoing investigation!)
After all my conversation with Parlo was said and done, I messaged Frevv (Community Manager in Parlos Discord) about what had transpired.

77 4/29/2025 12:05 AM

Heya

I just want to let you know I've already recorded and archived the groupchat I was in with Parlo, since he kicked me from it

I almost felt threatened by his final message
"Gatekeeping will not fare well for you"

Regardless, vague statements aside, just let him know I'm still open for an explanation on that

Frevv 4/29/2025 11:23 AM

What do you want him to take accountability for? He wasn't threatening you nor does he want drama.
Parlo is activity investigating Pyrocynical for taking advantage of minors and would prefer not to deal with drama that could discredit his research and proof on Pyro and let him get away with it again.

77 4/29/2025 2:59 PM

I'm not here to derail any ongoing investigations nor am I here to stir drama. I'm here to address a clear pattern of behavior that Parlo has exhibited that raises serious concerns. Especially in how he treats others behind the scenes.

Bringing up his comment "Gatekeeping will not fare well for you" , it was vague but still carried the weight of a passive threat, brushing that off doesn't change how it landed. Regardless of what he's working on, I will be calling out language like that, especially since he refused to engage in good faith when I asked him to reflect on his actions

Being involved in any type of high profile investigation does not exempt someone from being held accountable. If anything the standard should be even higher. Exposing predators does not make you immune to scrutiny, nor should it be that way

Also, if someone genuinely doesn't know what they need to take accountability for, especially after being confronted multiple times from several different people, that in itself is a massive red flag.

77 4/29/2025 3:41 PM

Oh and I should probably also mention this, Parlo was the one who approached me first. He explained his side of things, sent me a ton of excerpts from his documents, and from there I chose to interview him to better understand his behavior and see if it aligned with what I was observing.

My hypothesis was this:
He uses his mental health as a shield when criticised
He has sent graphic self harm images to minors
He shifts blame onto others to avoid acountability
He manipulates conversations to make himself the victim (edited)

Everything I observed during my talks with him only confirmed what I had already been thinking

Frevv 4/29/2025 3:46 PM
can you give examples

77 4/29/2025 4:07 PM
1. Relates to a lot of things, for example back to him sending his self harm images to other people within his circle. This can also be observed in lots of his videos and documents, which I have not yet finished compiling. If you want an excerpt of what he said to me, then here is one
I never criticised Parlo, I asked him about him sending self harm images to people in his server, and this is the tail end of his response. (edited)

2. Can be confirmed by multiple people, whether they have been within Parlos circle or not. So this one is fairly proven

77 4/29/2025 4:17 PM
I worded it this way because it's factual. Regardless of Parlo also being a minor (16), the person he sent those images to was 13. That is still a significant age gap, even moreso a maturity gap. Sending those kinds of images to younger people is serious. Even if it was during a breakdown, it does not make it okay in the slightest.
It also wouldnt be the first time it happened

Frevv 4/29/2025 4:17 PM
The way you phrased it was super bad faith and I think you realize this so you are now deflecting
"He has sent graphic self harm images to minors" as a minor....

77 4/29/2025 4:19 PM
You're focusing on how it was phrased instead of addressing what actually happened. I'm going to rephrase this. Whether Parlo was 16 or not, sending graphic self harm images to a 13 year old is something that deserves to be taken seriously.

I'm not trying to deflect, I'm explaining why I used the wording I did.

Frevv 4/29/2025 4:19 PM
This was during a manic episode which Parlo has apologized to kirb and took accountability for (edited) using this against him makes you seem petty and bad faith like I said earlier

Kirb even stated how he forgave Parlo for this incident

77 4/29/2025 4:25 PM
If Parlo actually took accountability, this wouldn't be a talking point at all. Saying "I was in a breakdown" isn't accountability, that's an attempt at justification. I haven't yet posted the interview publicly yet, so I don't blame you for being skeptical. Though, every time I brought up concerns or questions about responsibility, he either stalled, dodged, or reframed the situation to blame onto others.
Also, the idea that a manic episode excuses sending graphic self harm images to a 13 year old is incredibly dangerous. Metal health explains behavior but it doesnt exempt anyone
The clearest pattern I've observed from him was weaponized victimhood

Also, I'm not questioning whether or not Kirb personally forgave him, as that is his own choice, so Ill say this

Personal forgiveness does not equal public accountability

Not to mention the fact he did it again with Dupe, him not knowing the age aside. Apologies without behavioral change or public responsibility are not accountability. it is damage control.

You can call my framing "bad faith" or whatever else all you want, it still wont change what actually happened

Frevv 4/29/2025 4:30 PM
Parlo didn't know Kirb's age and he was apart of the community for a very long time when this took place (obv by lying about his age initially) and Parlo was only 16 himself

The statement "He has sent graphic self harm images to minors" is inhrently bad faith considering you are leaving out that Parlo was also a minor.
You are using the word minor here for effect instead of giving the situation respect and treating it professionally.

77 4/29/2025 4:34 PM
If this is true, that alone proves a lack of boundaries or even caution when interacting in a community with known minors. Sending graphic self harm images to anyone without confirming age or context is reckless, but doing it more than once is not just poor judgement, but a pattern.
He may have been 16, but he was still the older and more influential one in both cases.
Again, "I didn't know their age" is also not an excuse.
This just told me he was distributing traumatic imagery in a space where he didn't even know who was seeing it. Which arguably makes things worse.

77 4/29/2025 4:36 PM
Also, the use of the word "minor" in my statement was factual and accurate. It isnt in bad faith to point out that a 13 year old, someone who literally just got access to discord, recieved graphic self harm imagery from someone older and more powerful than they are. Legally, developmentally, and ethically (most important), a 13 year old and 16 year old are not equal, especially when that 16 year old holds more influence control or emotional power in the dynamic

Frevv 4/29/2025 4:30 PM

Calling them both "minors" to downplay the severity of the age and maturity gap is very misleading. a 13 year old is someone in middle school. a 16 year old can drive, work a job, and is usually held to a higher standard of responsability under law

Frevv 4/29/2025 4:37 PM

It's not misleading at all

whereas acting like one side was a minor and the other was not is misleading

This was not a 1:1 peer exchange. Parlo is a youtuber with thousands of subscribers. He was in the position of greater power and experience, not only because of his age, but because of his presence and influence within his community. Pretending like that context doesn't matter is harmful. Using the correct terms to describe power imbalance isn't bad faith.

The issue isnt about whether parlo was technically a minor, its about the power imbalance. the reason people will interpret it differently isn't because im hiding facts, its because im not minimizing the real world implications of a 16 year old who weilds massive amounts of influence in his community sending self harm material to a 13 year old, more than once, too.

This interaction with Frevv (Parlos own community manager and the one who put him in contact with me) reveals valuable insight on how dissent is handled internally within Parlo's own circles

So let's unpack this.

We have:

- Defensive Deflection over substance.

Frevv doesn't engage with the serious concern raised (a 16 year old sending graphic self harm imagery to a 13 year old, Kirb), Frevv is instead hyper focused on phrasing.  This is a common deflection tactic: attacking tone or wording instead of addressing the act.

- Bad Faith Accusation to Silence Criticism

"You're being manipulative asf" is a textbook attempt to reverse the accusation without disarming it.  He doesn't explain anything, he simply shut the door on dialogue and attempted to undermine credibility.

- Minimization through Wordplay

Frevv repeatedly emphasized that both Parlo and Kirb were "minors", and despite it being true, it ignores the substantial maturity, legal, and influence gap between a regular 13 year old (Kirb) and a 16 year old (Parlo) youtuber who runs an influential platform.
This is a deliberate rhetorical tactic meant to soften the gravity of the situation to readers

- Power Dynamics ignored or Denied

Again, at no point did Frevv acknowledge the fact that Parlo, as a YouTuber with a platform and dedicated following (even at the time!), held vastly more power than the 13 year old who received the images.

- Immediate shutdown of Dialogue

After failing to discredit the argument presented, Frevv blocked me. This is not only immature and the equivalent of a child covering their ears and yelling "I'm right and you're wrong!", it's also indicative of a system that punishes anyone who pushes back or doesn't conform.

This can also be observed with people from r/pyrocynical joining and immediately being banned for small dissensions.

The last message by DarthV, I replied saying stop defending parlo then, and I got banned from the server lmao

Why should you care?

It may be easy to brush all of this aside as “Roblox/Internet Drama”, but at its core it’s really not.

We shouldn’t pretend that this is “just drama”
We shouldn’t downplay the situation just because the person is a Roblox Youtuber
We shouldn’t minimize it because the person behind it masks himself in victimhood and self righteous rage.

This is NOT about petty beef or “drama”.  This is about a grown adult man who has repeatedly harmed, manipulated and emotionally/mentally damaged CHILDREN, and built an audience that constantly enables and encourages this behavior.

“He’s just a roblox youtuber”

So what?  He still has:

- Over half a MILLION subscribers
- A cult like following of children and impressionable fans
- A reputation of “exposing predators.” (which he sometimes weaponizes to look untouchable, by the way)

The bottom line is this: If your audience is made up of children, your standard of conduct should be higher, not lower.  (You also shouldn’t run femboy servers filled with children)

“He’s not a predator, though.  He just made mistakes.”

Sending graphic self harm images to a 13 year old TWICE (Dupe and Kirb), isn’t a mistake.
It is a clear crisis of judgement that could traumatize someone for life.
Saying “I was manic” does not erase that.
Mental health isn’t a license to cause harm.
He continues to shift blame onto victims, exploit his own trauma to dodge criticism, and reframe being confronted as “attacks”.
This doesn’t even mention the slew of other things he’s done. (Doxxing, running suggestive servers and accounts)

“It’s just online stuff!”

Not when it involves real children.
Not when people were doxxed.
Not when people are being manipulated, silenced, and even traumatized.
Not when people are receiving death threats and being called pedophiles simply for speaking up.
If you think this isn’t serious because it happened over Discord or Youtube, then you are missing the point.
This kind of behavior would get someone investigated, fired, or sued in any other environment.
If this document makes you uncomfortable, good.
If you stay silent, don’t be surprised if he does something even worse than everything discussed in this document and gets away with it because of his influence in the future.
If we ignore these signs, we are part of the problem.

What to look out for in any Parlo Response (Past, Present, and Future)

Read this before Parlo responds

1. Victim Act

“This situation has been horrible on my mental health”
“Everyone is out to get me”
“I’ve suffered enough”
He’ll deflect criticism by making it about his mental health.
This is designed to shut down accountability and guilt you into silence and inaction.

2. Character Assasination of critics/sources

“These people are doxxers, liars, traitors, or pedophile defenders.”
He’ll try to discredit anyone who speaks out by labeling them as evil or untrustworthy.
Just know this: The more damning the criticism, the more aggressive character attacks will be.

3. Selective Evidence Cherry Picking

“Look at this screenshot where they lied.”
“Here’s a clip with no context proving nothing.”
He will ignore the full picture and present only the most flattering fragments of whatever evidence he has.
He may take things out of context, hoping you don’t fact check.

4. The “Fake News” defense

“This is all misinformation and lies.”
“They’re making things up to smear me.”
~~“IT’S A TRAP! THIS WHOLE THING IS A SETUP! THIS IS ALL PART OF NEAR’S PLAN TO FRAME ME!”~~
He will ignore the full picture and present only the most flattering fragments of whatever evidence he has.
He may take things out of context, hoping you don’t fact check.

5. Shifting the Focus

“Why are you going after me when Pyro is worse?”
“There are predators out there and you’re wasting your time on me.”
This is a Whataboutism tactic used to change the subject.
The focus is on Parlos behavior, not anybody else's.

6. Demanding a Detailed list

“You’re being vague, tell me exactly what I need to take accountability for.”

This is a trap to control the conversation.
He knows what he's done. He's trying to bait you into a debate so he can twist your words.

7. "I already apologized" Excuse

"I've said sorry, what more do you want?"
"I took accountability already."
These are nothing more than performative apologies used to not look bad.
A real apology would be followed by actual change and behavioral correction, not excuses.

8. False conflation of Criticism with Harassment

"You're enabling people to bully me."
"This is an attack, not a criticism."
This is an attempt to delegitimize criticism and weaponize sympathy.
In fact, he may try to frame this very document as abuse, with no regards as to whether what's in it is true or not.

9. Future threats or Blackmail implications

"Gatekeeping won't fare well for you."
"I'll expose your lies."
This is intimidation, not an argument.

10. The Narcissist's Prayer (In Real Time)

"That didn't happen."
"And if it did, it wasn't that bad."

“And if it was, it wasn’t my fault.”
“And if it was, I didn’t mean it.”
“And if I did, you deserve it.”
You’ll see him gradually slide down this chain as he tries to soften or redirect every accusation.
If you see him do this, DOCUMENT IT!
Parlo has a history of deleting his posts, so don’t let him gaslight you.

11. Overloading with Logs and Deflection Documents

He might dump dozens of out of context screenshots or post a massive “response doc” that avoids key claims and focuses on side arguments or old drama.
It’s meant to exhaust and confuse you, not address the problem.
This can be observed in almost every document he has made, ESPECIALLY Homotopia.

12. Calling it “Old Drama” to dismiss it

“This happened ages ago.”
“We’ve moved on.”
But if the behavior never changed, the time passed is irrelevant.

13. Mobilizing his followers

Vague tweets or community posts that stir his fan base without directly naming anything.
“Can’t believe people would side with X.”
“I’ve always tried to do the right thing.”
“Sad to see how people twist things.”
These can be dog whistles that prompt harassment without him directly asking for it.

(And as we know from my interview with him, even though he says running his youtube channel is a great responsibility, he takes little to no accountability for what his fans do.)

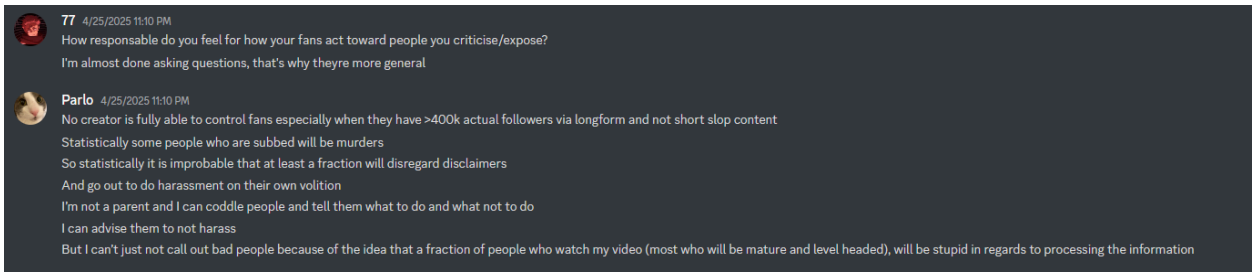
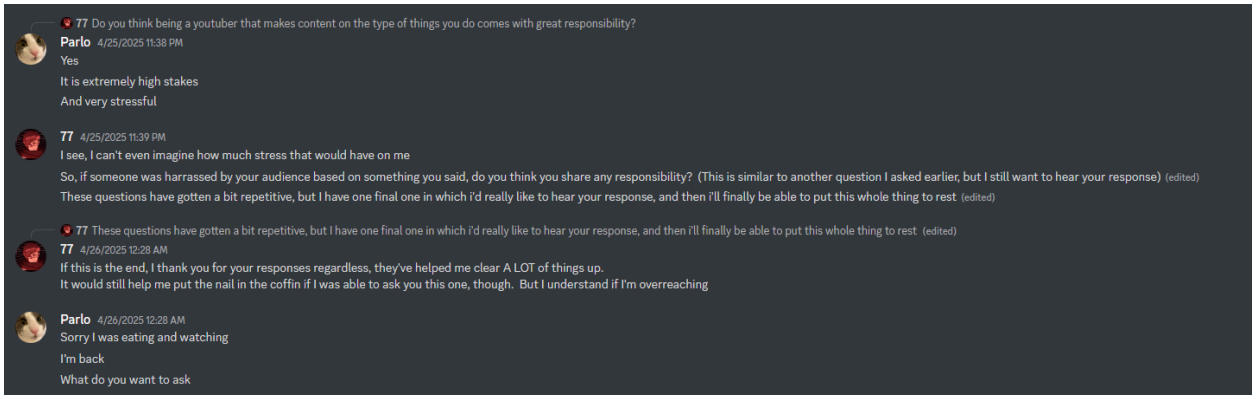
77 4/25/2025 11:37 PM
Do you think being a youtuber that makes content on the type of things you do comes with great responsibility?
This is my third to last question before I head out for the night
77 Do you think being a youtuber that makes content on the type of things you do comes with great responsibility?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:38 PM
Yes
It is extremely high stakes
And very stressful



77 4/25/2025 11:10 PM
How responsable do you feel for how your fans act toward people you criticise/expose?
I'm almost done asking questions, that's why theyre more general
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:10 PM
No creator is fully able to control fans especially when they have >400k actual followers via longform and not short slop content
Statistically some people who are subbed will be murders
So statistically it is improbable that at least a fraction will disregard disclaimers
And go out to do harassment on their own volition
I'm not a parent and I can coddle people and tell them what to do and what not to do
I can advise them to not harass
But I can't just not call out bad people because of the idea that a fraction of people who watch my video (most who will be mature and level headed), will be stupid in regards to processing the information



77 Do you think being a youtuber that makes content on the type of things you do comes with great responsibility?
Parlo 4/25/2025 11:38 PM
Yes
It is extremely high stakes
And very stressful
77 4/25/2025 11:39 PM
I see, I can't even imagine how much stress that would have on me
So, if someone was harrassed by your audience based on something you said, do you think you share any responsibility? (This is similar to another question I asked earlier, but I still want to hear your response) (edited)
These questions have gotten a bit repetitive, but I have one final one in which i'd really like to hear your response, and then i'll finally be able to put this whole thing to rest (edited)
77 These questions have gotten a bit repetitive, but I have one final one in which i'd really like to hear your response, and then i'll finally be able to put this whole thing to rest (edited)
77 4/26/2025 12:28 AM
If this is the end, I thank you for your responses regardless, they've helped me clear A LOT of things up.
It would still help me put the nail in the coffin if I was able to ask you this one, though. But I understand if I'm overreaching
Parlo 4/26/2025 12:28 AM
Sorry I was eating and watching
I'm back
What do you want to ask

14. Language Hijacking/Strategic Mimicry

Be mindful if you notice terms used in this document being echoed in responses without meaningful acknowledgement of the behavior itself, as it may indicate an attempt to neutralize criticism by mirroring the language rather than addressing the context. This doesn't automatically discredit what is said, but it's worth watching how and why these words are being used. Look for substance behind those terms, not just the terms themselves.

15. Silence or Proxy Defense

If he avoids responding directly and lets others “speak for him” that itself is a tactic.  Watch for vague denial , redirection, or vague appeals to his character from others.  If someone genuinely has nothing to hide, then they don’t need spokespeople, they can speak clearly for themselves.  If those defending him repeat the same deflections, insults, or tone policing then they’re just proving this document correct.

16. Creating a Victim Narrative

He may twist the situation to make himself the one under attack, saying things like:
“They’re out to get me.”
“This is harassment.”
This flips the power dynamic and makes it seem like he’s being unfairly targeted, even if all you’re doing is trying to hold him accountable.

And lastly, if Parlo reads this and still tries to do anything mentioned in this list, understand that it’s intention and not ignorance.

These tactics were predicted because they are part of a repeated, observable pattern.  If you watch him do exactly what this section warned about, that alone should tell you everything you need to know.

You’re not watching an honest rebuttal, but manipulation in real time.

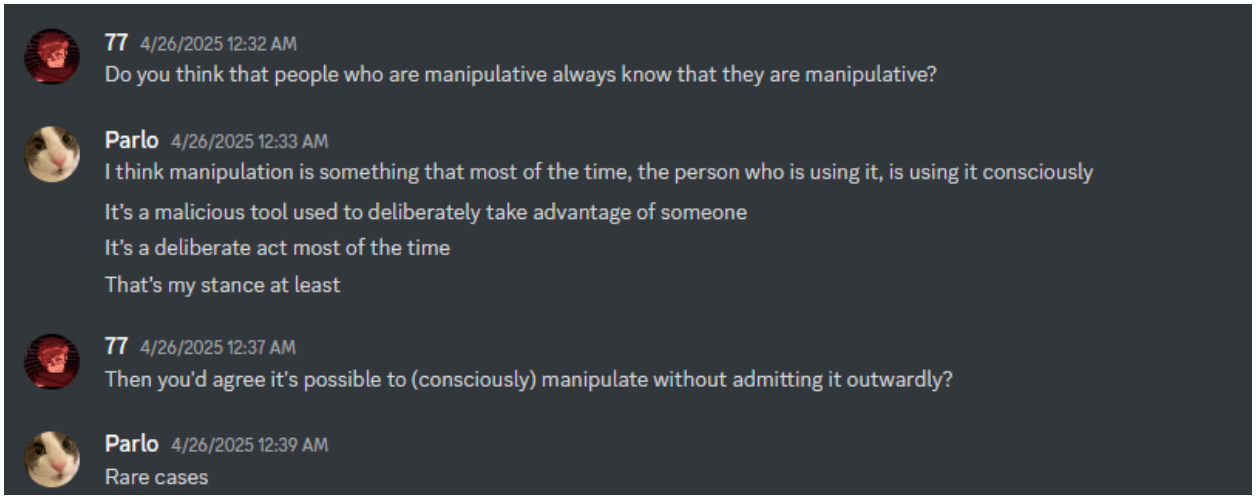
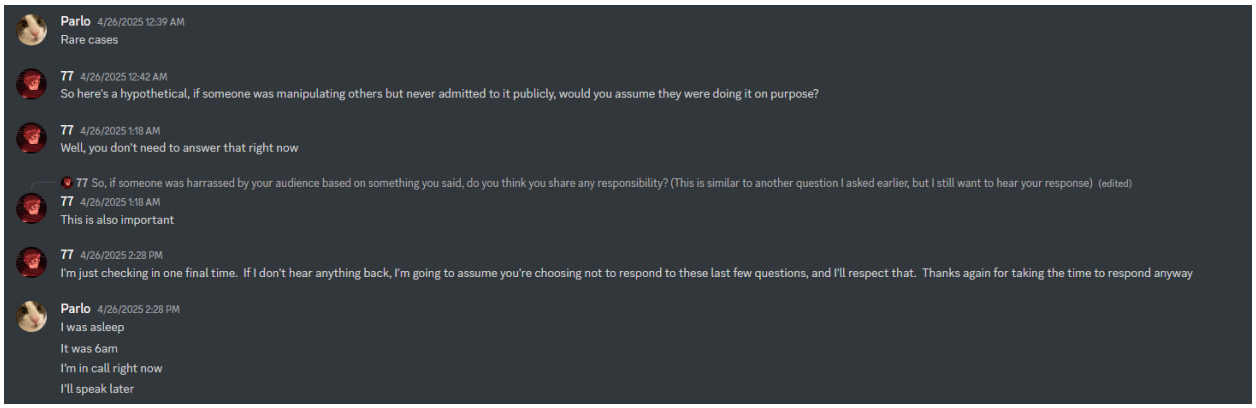
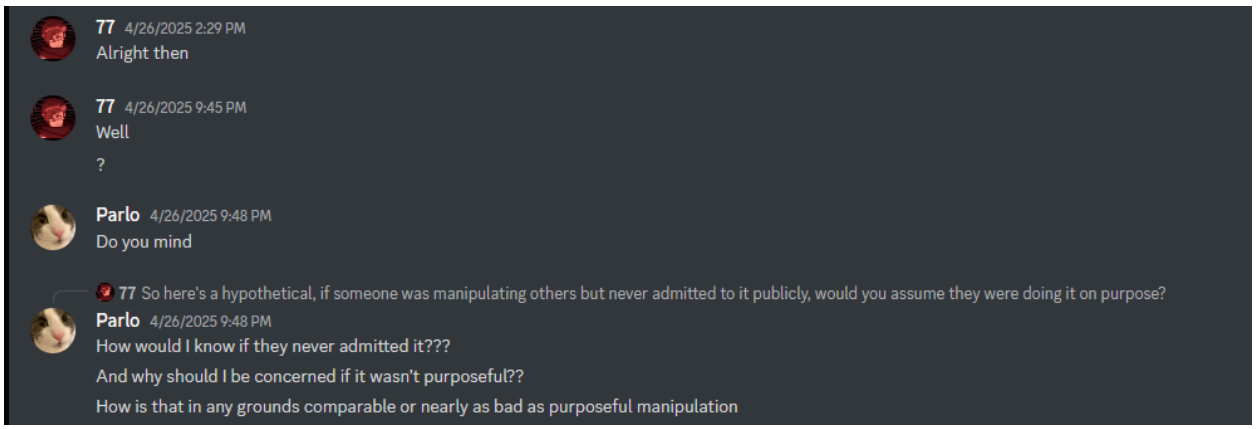
Speaking of manipulation, I will remind you what Parlo had to say about manipulation.



77 4/26/2025 12:32 AM
Do you think that people who are manipulative always know that they are manipulative?
Parlo 4/26/2025 12:33 AM
I think manipulation is something that most of the time, the person who is using it, is using it consciously
It's a malicious tool used to deliberately take advantage of someone
It's a deliberate act most of the time
That's my stance at least
77 4/26/2025 12:37 AM
Then you'd agree it's possible to (consciously) manipulate without admitting it outwardly?
Parlo 4/26/2025 12:39 AM
Rare cases



Parlo 4/26/2025 12:39 AM
Rare cases
77 4/26/2025 12:42 AM
So here's a hypothetical, if someone was manipulating others but never admitted to it publicly, would you assume they were doing it on purpose?
77 4/26/2025 1:18 AM
Well, you don't need to answer that right now
77 So, if someone was harrassed by your audience based on something you said, do you think you share any responsibility? (This is similar to another question I asked earlier, but I still want to hear your response) (edited)
77 4/26/2025 1:18 AM
This is also important
77 4/26/2025 2:28 PM
I'm just checking in one final time. If I don't hear anything back, I'm going to assume you're choosing not to respond to these last few questions, and I'll respect that. Thanks again for taking the time to respond anyway
Parlo 4/26/2025 2:28 PM
I was asleep
It was 6am
I'm in call right now
I'll speak later



77 4/26/2025 2:29 PM
Alright then
77 4/26/2025 9:45 PM
Well
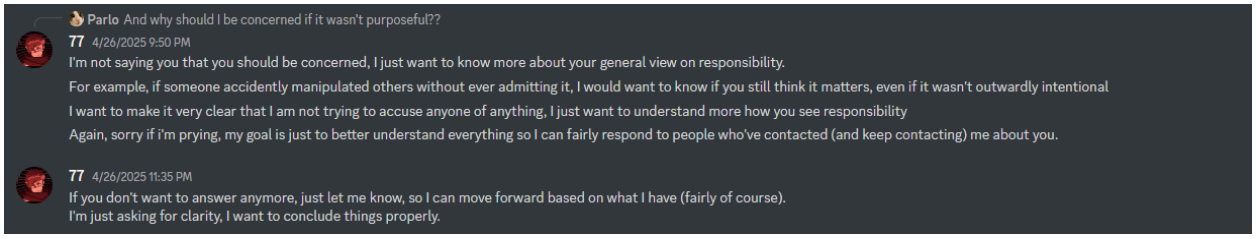
Parlo 4/26/2025 9:48 PM
Do you mind
77 So here's a hypothetical, if someone was manipulating others but never admitted to it publicly, would you assume they were doing it on purpose?
Parlo 4/26/2025 9:48 PM
How would I know if they never admitted it???
And why should I be concerned if it wasn't purposeful??
How is that in any grounds comparable or nearly as bad as purposeful manipulation



Parlo And why should I be concerned if it wasn't purposeful??
77 4/26/2025 9:50 PM
I'm not saying you that you should be concerned, I just want to know more about your general view on responsibility.
For example, if someone accidently manipulated others without ever admitting it, I would want to know if you still think it matters, even if it wasn't outwardly intentional
I want to make it very clear that I am not trying to accuse anyone of anything, I just want to understand more how you see responsibility
Again, sorry if i'm prying, my goal is just to better understand everything so I can fairly respond to people who've contacted (and keep contacting) me about you.
77 4/26/2025 11:35 PM
If you don't want to answer anymore, just let me know, so I can move forward based on what I have (fairly of course).
I'm just asking for clarity, I want to conclude things properly.

(This was the end of the conversation, he didn't reply to me until I sent him my final message 2 days later.)

One Last Note

To be honest with whoever's reading this,  if I was emotionally vulnerable, or at least less mentally resilient, then this document probably wouldn't exist.  There were moments I genuinely second guessed if I was in the right for speaking up.  Not because the facts weren't there, but because the way Parlo and others handled things (Emotional redirection, framing concerns as personal attacks, victim blaming)

If I hadn't documented everything or stepped back to really think about the reality of the situation, then there's a chance I could've actually let this go.  Not because it wasn't serious, but because the way he and others engage can make you feel like you're the problem for even asking questions.  And on top of that, there's always the looming risk that I could be the target for harassment, smear campaigns, doxxing, or even worse as retaliation.

That's exactly why this kind of behavior is so effective, and why I felt the need to write this section in the first place. People need to know and understand the full weight of this situation.  Because if someone with a platform and influence can get away with things like this, then it sets a precedent that nobody should let stand.
